U. S. CONGRESSMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

REFUGEE STEALS CLOTHES OF HIS BENEFACTOR, THEN ELOPES WITH HIS WIFE!

Man Is Arrested in Oakland, But Woman Has Mysteriously Disappeared.

A refugee who stole his benefactor's clothes and wife, was arrested here this morning by Sheriff Frank Barnet on a warrant from Los Angeles, and the man is now in custody awaiting the arrival of officers from the southern county. His companion made her escape.

The man in the case is George Christ, who, also at times, takes the name of Stokes. He is 29 years of age and was burned out of his haunts in San Francisco and in response to an invitation went to Los Angeles where he was provided with all he needed by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. Naegele.

SHE IS GOOD LOOKING.

While well preserved and a good looking woman, Mrs. Alvina Naegele is described as at least ten years her companion's senior, but this did not prevent her taking such a liking to him, that she agreed to leave her husband for her nephew. To do this they pawned a piano and sold some of the most valuable household effects belonging to her husband, and with the proceeds quietly took the train and left for parts unknown. Naegele's wrath was unbounded when he discovered their perfidy and he immediately swore to a warrant charging them with the theft of his goods. Sheriff White of Los Angeles came north with the warrant and the husband and they spent several days in this city and San Francisco trying to locate the pair but without success.

GAVE NOTICE.

General notice was sent out by Sheriff Frank Barnet and Marshal Carey of Emeryville said that he knew Christ, and this morning met him on Broadway and took him into custody. He was taken to the sheriff's office and later to the county jail. When asked where he had been staying he said that he was living at the Merritt Hotel with his wife, and without losing any more time Sheriff Barnet sent a deputy there to take the woman into custody. But the bird had already flown. The woman, he was informed, had ordered her trunks taken to the Sixteenth street station last night and stated that she was going to Los Angeles on the Owl.

MAKES CONFESSION.

Christ or Stokes does not deny coming north with the woman, but denies that he stole anything and said that he only acted as Mrs. Naegele's agent in securing a loan on the piano and other goods, and said that he supposed they belonged to her. The piano, Naegele said, was the property of a niece of Mrs. Naegele. They secured $100 on the piano and about as much more on other things they pawned and sold.

Sheriff Barnet was very much disappointed to think he lost the man's companion, but he believes that she will be arrested at the other end of the line and already has sent telegrams to Los Angeles to give the officers there notice of her coming. The pair had been at the Merritt Hotel since last Tuesday.

WOMAN BECOMES INSANE IN CHURCH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—While attending to her devotions in St. Stephen's church last night, Mrs. Mary Hurst, a woman aged 40 years, was suddenly bereft of her senses and had to be restrained by the pastor, Rev. Cecil Marrack. He tried to calm the distracted woman but it was impossible. As a last resort the minister of the gospel had the woman sent to the emergency hospital where she will be held pending an examination of her sanity. The unusual experience accompanying the fire and earthquak are alleged to have been responsible for her mental condition.

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF FRAUD

SAN JOSE, June 1.—Lester Ball, a San Francisco saloon man, was arrwrested here last night on a charge of attempt to defraud creditors in that city. He had $3464 in gold and notes in his pocket. He will be returned to San Francisco this afternoon.

SENSATIONAL IS DEATH OF ROBERT ADAMS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Representative Robert Adams of the Second Congressional District of Pennsylvania died at the Emergency Hospital in this city today as the result of a pistol shot fired through his mouth into his head with suicidal intent.

The act was committed at the club chambers of the Metropolitan Club, where Mr. Adams had resided for several years, some time between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning. It was not until 8 o'clock, however, that he was found by Horace Clark, one of the negro bellmen, whose habit it was each morning at that hour to carry hot water to the room.

Upon opening the door Clark found Mr. Adams, entirely nude, sitting upright in an armchair. Mr. Adams was then unconscious and the physician who was summoned pronounced the wound fatal.

Mr. Adams was soon afterwards removed to the hospital in a patrol wagon, where the bullet and some fragments of the bone were removed from his brain.

GHASTLY FEATURE.

A ghastly feature of his attack was the fact that after shooting himself, Mr. Adams proceeded out into the hall and to the bathroom, where he washed himself and then returned to his room. The walls and bathroom were spattered with blood.

In his room an unsigned note was found addressed to James Clark, another bellman, reading as follows:

"Notify H. G. Clement, 1326 L street. Telephone Main 1863, and also Francis P. Adams, 1817 Wallace street. Left money for breakfast bill. You can divide the things in the closet."

MENTAL STRAIN.

At the Metropolitan Club chambers it was recalled today that yesterday morning Mr. Adams did not act naturally and appeared to be under some mental strain. Before leaving for the capitol he demanded his board bill, which he paid, remarking at the same time that the bellmen could divide up the change among themselves. He seemed himself again last night, and there was nothing in his action which indicated that he contemplated taking his life.

POPULAR OFFICIAL.

Robert Adams was one of the most popular representatives in Congress, and he has been identified with many matters of world-wide importance His position as ranking member of the majority after the chairman on the house committe on foreign affairs has, owing to the ill health of Mr. Hitt, made it necessary for him to largely direct the business of that important committee, and

20 KILLED, 60 WOUNDED BY THE ANARCHIST'S BOMB; GENERAL WEYLER IS HURT

GENERAL WEYLER, WHO WAS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED BY THE BOMB WHICH WAS THROWN AT KING ALFONSO AND BRIDE.

MADRID, JUNE 1.—GENERAL WEYLER WAS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED BY THE BOMB EXPLOSION YESTERDAY. FIVE OF THE WOUNDED ARE DYING.

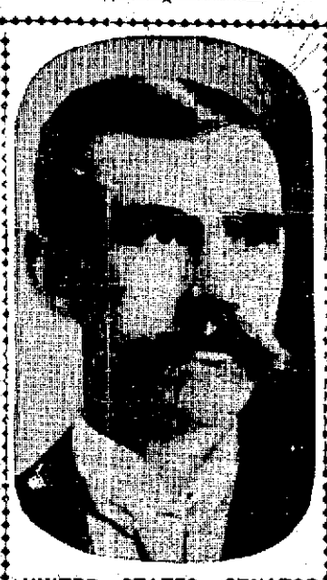

THE MAGNITUDE OF THE ATTEMPT ON THE LIVES OF KING ALFONSO AND QUEEN VICTORIA INCREASES. THE NUMBER OF KILLED IS NOW GIVEN AT TWENTY AND THE WOUNDED AT SIXTY. DURING THE NIGHT THIRTY ARRESTS WERE MADE.

MADRID, June 1, 1 p. m.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria appeared at noon in an open automobile and rode through the principal thoroughfares without an escort. This unexpected display created tremendous enthusiasm among the crowds, who testified their joy at their majesties escape from death yesterday by the wildest ovations. The king and queen appeared to be calm and undisturbed. His majesty wore the uniform of a general, and smiling, waved his hand to the people. There were no troops in the streets, only a few scattered mounted civil guards. The searches made by the police disclose the fact that the author of the outrage was a man of family and wealth. He left many valuables and fine clothes behind him in his hurried flight. He bought a bouquet of flowers before the attempt and concealed the bomb within it. This bouquet was thrown amid the strewing flowers which fell upon the coach as a greeting to their majesties. The would-be assassin occupied a window overlooking a balcony, for which he paid a fabulous price. Another dispatch from Madrid says King Alfonso had an even more miraculous escape than generally is known. A fragment of the bomb struck his breast, but the force was broken by the chain of the king's Portuguese Order of Santiago which he was wearing. The chain was broken, but it stopped a piece of steel, which otherwise might have pierced the king's breast.

SALOONS IN CITY TO OPEN

Liquor May Be Sold Across Bay Within Thirty Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Saloons will be open in this city within ninety days for a certainty and, in all probability, within thirty days. This is the consensus of opinion expressed by supervisors, politicians and Mayor Schmitz.

For more than two weeks the liquor dealers have been importuning the city officials for the opportunity of again conducting their business, but they received little encouragement while the grave problems brought about by the calamity were being considered.

Now that the city has returned to its normal condition and there are not many obstacles in the way of rebuilding the city the municipal authorities are lending an ear to the pleadings of the saloon men and will grant their petition for an early reopening of the saloons.

MAYOR SCHMITZ SAYS:

In speaking of the reopening of the saloons, Mayor Schmitz said: "While there have been no official conferences, it is safe to say that the saloons will

SUSPECT IS PUT UNDER ARREST

Believed to Have Been Person Who Threw the Bomb.

MADRID, June 1.—The man in custody at the Medio Dia police station under suspicion of being the person who threw the bomb at the king and queen yesterday is said to be an Englishman and gives the name of Robert Hamilton. He is about 56 years old and was pointed out in the streets to the Spanish police by English detectives who came here to attend the wedding festivities.

His arrest caused great excitement among the people, men and women trying to strike him, while others shouted "Lynch him." Soldiers had to assist the police in taking the man to the station. He is of good appearance and somewhat resembles the man the police have been looking for.

TELLS HIS STORY.

The suspect says he went to a bull fight yesterday afternoon, but he does not explain how he passed his time yesterday morning. He refuses to give the Spanish police any further information, but adds that he is willing to answer any questions the British consul may put to him.

CLOSE CALL FOR A KING AND QUEEN

The man in custody at the Medio Dia police station and Hamilton, the suspect taken into custody by the police at the instigation of the English detectives, are now said to be identical, but the fact has not been definitely established. Hamilton was arrested, it now appears, as he was on the point of taking a train leaving Madrid. He is said to have arrived here from Cataluna, the hotbed of agitators, and to have first gone to Arsenal street on the route of the wedding procession, where he engaged a room, but failing to secure a front balcony, the suspect gave up his room and went to Mayor street, where he offered to pay any price for a balcony

GAVE A LARGE SUM.

They were all occupied, but a Catalonian artist was induced by the offer of a large sum of money to give up his apartment, in front of which was a stone balcony with an iron railing. This immediately faced one of the handsome arches under which the cortege was to pass. The stranger who hired the artist's apartment gave the name of Manuel Morales. He lived on a lavish scale. A few minutes before he threw the bouquet containing the bomb, or as some reports have it, an infernal machine which was fired by a storage battery, Morales summoned the wife of the proprietor of the house and asked her to bring him a glass of soda water, apparently to steady his nerves.

The authorities, in spite of the conflicting statements regarding the suspect, have not yet made any announcement tending to clarify the situation.

PICTURE OF SCENE.

It is now possible to assemble an exact picture of the scene from the description of eye witnesses of the occurrence. Don Alvare de Toledo, one of the equerries of the king, and a lady who occupied a balcony facing the spot where the explosion occurred, give graphic descriptions of the explosion. Eight horses of the royal coach had already passed the tribune and the enthusiasm of the multitude had reached its highest pitch at the sight of the king and queen and their superb retinue. Handkerchiefs and fans were waving, shouts of greeting filled the air and the trumpeteers were sounding a welcome at the entrance of the palace nearby, when suddenly from above a large bouquet fell amid the flags and streamers, followed by a terrible detonation, accompanied by flashes of vivid fire and a crash of glass.

The young woman has been set free.

The girl is very persistent in her demands for the Senator to marry her.

Senator Simpson goes to Sacramento in the morning.

UNHAPPY CHINESE IS FOUND STARVING

Wong Ah Gow, a Chinese cook, who was employed by a family on Hyde street in San Francisco but who lost all trace of them after the fire, was taken to the receiving hospital this morning in a dying condition. He has the dropsy and was sent out to the county infirmary, but it is not believed that he can survive long. He had had nothing to eat since yesterday morning and was in a famished condition, his illness aggravating his condition He was found at Seventeenth street near Broadway.

CLOSE ON WHEAT.

LIVERPOOL, June 1.—Close: Wheat—Quotations not received.

The daintiest sachets for trunk, dressers and boxes are made of small paper dollies, which come now in a multitude of exquisite designs, inclose the powder—and, by the way, violet mingled with sandalwood is delightful—in a small envelope, sealing it carefully that the powder cannot sift through and place it between two of these small lace-paper mats. They may be sewed with white thread through the perforations forming the border, when the stitches are almost invisible, or they may be tied with baby ribbon. A set of these in different sizes, each with a pretty flower design hand painted in the center, makes a dainty and very acceptable gift. An Easter suggestion worth remembering.

There is a knack of putting ruffles on a skirt which makes that usually dreaded task as easy as sewing a plain seam. Let the skirt fall on the floor and draw the hem across the lap board. Spread the ruffle evenly on the gather thread for an equal length and lay the lower edge even with the edge of the skirt. Stick two or three pins in the gathers to hold them temporarily, then begin at the lower edge and pin to the edge of the skirt. Pin every two inches for the length of the lap board. The gather thread is then drawn taut and a few more pins put in the gathers, after which the basting is mere play. Use plenty of pins, and you will wonder that you ever tried to put on ruffles without them.

Ornamental oversleeves to protect the dress sleeves while working at a desk can be made out of those pretty colored-bordered handkerchiefs so numerous and inexpensive in the shops. Cut off two of the corners and sew the kerchief together in such manner that one remaining corner runs up in a point above at the elbow, while the other is turned back at the wrist to form a pointed cuff. The seam of the oversleeve runs up the inner side of the arm.

As hats have diminished in size, the parasol has followed suit, until this season's novel creation resembles a sunflower in circumference and has been given its name by Parisians, who find it absurd. This queer Chinese model, made of the finest silks and laces, is perched on a long, slender stem with a splinter of amber set in the handle, as amber is this season used in every imaginable way as a mascot.

JAPANESE AFTER BUSINESS

THEY ARE REACHING OUT FOR SHIPPING ON THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

WASHINGTON, June 1—President Harvey D Goulder of the Merchant Marine League of the United States, in a letter says that the Japanese are negotiating for the purchase of he larger number of the United States ships in the foreign trade on the Pacific Ocean. The Japanese are in a position to operate their ships for far less money than an American owner can operate his carriers, owing to the cheaper labor of Japan and the smaller requirements of Japanese sailors in the matter of food and accommodations The Japanese government also pays liberal subsidies. President Goulder, writing on the subject, says,

"There is a Japanese line of three moderate-sized steamships running from Yokohama to San Francisco that receives $500 000 a year in subsidies from the Japanese government, and it competes with an American (the Pacific Mail) line which last year received $63,000 from our government The Pacific Mail line has five ships, any one of which is larger and better than the best of the three Japanese. Naturally, this competition must be ruinous to the American line and the sequel is that the Japanese line has secured an option on the Pacific Mail line for the purchase of its five ships. A similar line of five fine American steamships, each of which ships received last year from $5000 to $12 000 from our government, runs from Seattle to the Orient in competition with a smaller Japanese line, receiving $330,000 a year from the Japanese government, and wit ha British line, of smaller and less number of ships, that receives an annual subsidy of $300 000 from the British government. These ships the Japanese want and may get. A line of three up-to-date American steamships runs from San Francisco to Hawaii, Samoa, New Zealand, and Australia, which line received last year $288,000 from our government, and its owners claim lost $371,000 in operating its ships, is also wanted by the Japanese."

The poet said: "Two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one?" There's a ripe sentiment for you, but they must eat, just the same—two hearts that eat as one. Eating is a first law of nature, excepting for a dipsomaniac. SOCIETY MAN IS SUICIDE

he was thus brought into close contact with President Roosevelt and Secretaries Hay, Root and Taft.

SOCIETY MAN.

Mr. Adams was a society and clubman, and was at all prominent social functions in this city. It was only yesterday that he, as acting chairman of the house committee on forign affairs, managed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill to its final passage in the house. As this bill has been before the house for the past week, Mr. Adams has been the principal figure in the house. There was nothing in his deportment during the consideration of the measure to indicate an unusual condition of his mind.

WHIPPING POST BILL.

Mr. Adams became prominent at the beginning of the session of congress by introducing and championing the "Whipping Post Bill," which had been recommended by the President. Mr. Adams had to stand a good natured chaffing during the debate on the bill

The fact that he was a bachelor and was trying to secure the passage of a bill to punish wife beating by whipping the man found guilty gave opportunity for poking fun at the Pennsylvania member.

PROBABLE REASON.

Mr. Adams, like most members of congress from Philadelphia, seemed to have a life lease on his seat in congress, although it was rumored a few years ago that he had been threatened with opposition.

At that time there was a suggestion that he had lost a large portion of his fortune through unfortunate investments, and this is one of the possible causes for the act of self destruction.

Mr. Adams has always been a consistent Republican of the stalwart type. He was born in Philadelphia February 26, 1849, and graduated the University of Pennsylvania. He practiced law for several years and spent some time in scientific explorations as a member of the U. S. geological survey.

In 1883 he began his political career as a member of the state senate of Pennsylvania, where he served four year, and in 1889 entered the diplomatic service as American minister to Brazil. He filled this position for a little over a year and then came back to this country to re-enter politics, being elected a member of the fifty-third congress, where he has served continuously since.

TO SPEAKER CANNON.

Mr. Adams last night wrote the following letter to Speaker Cannon. It was received at the capital just before the hour for convening the house today:

"Washington, May 31, 1906.

"Hon. J. G. Cannon.

"My dear Mr. Speaker: The fact that my personal obligations exceed my resources is my only excuse for abandoning the responsible position I occupy in the house. I am willing to be buried at its expense, but I ask that no committee be appointed or memorial services held, as I have never been in sympathy with the latter custom. With assurances of my highest regards, sincerely yours,

"ROBERT ADAMS."

Mr. Adams purchased the pistol with which he shot himself in a Pennsylvania avenue store two weeks ago. He was seen by an acquaintance making the purchase.

FEARED FAILURE.

It is general knowledge among Mr. Adams' associates in the House that he was a dealer in the stock market and had been for many years. He had, however, met reverses in this connection in the past and had at times also been a very successful operator.

Taking into account his sensitive temperament, his colleagues explain that if he was heavily in debt he would consider the act of taking his life the most honorable means of vindication.

Several times during the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill in the House Mr. Adams had expressed great anxiety to get the bill through that he might attend to personal business which he said required his presence in Philadelphia.

MAKES APPEAL.

On Monday, when Speaker Cannon contemplated temporarily sidetracking the measure, to make way for the postoffice bill, Mr. Adams made an appeal to first allow the passage of the bill in his charge. He told the Speaker he had a most urgent and important engagement to keep today.

Upon the announcement of the death of Mr. Adams the House adjourned.

DRAPED IN BLACK.

WASHINGTON, June 1—A black draped desk in the House of Representatives covered with June flowers brought a shock to almost every member when the House convened today. It told, with a pathos all its own, the story of the passing of Robert Adams Jr., late congressman from the Second Pennsylvania district, from the Second of an active life.

Not in years has there come to the membership of the House such a sudden gloom as came with the going out of Mr. Adams. But yesterday having charge of the Diplomatic and Consular bill, he showed energy and activity, getting the bill through the House with less friction than usual, but few amendemnts being made to the measure.

VISIBLY AFFECTED.

The seat which today is covered with black, was selected by Mr. Adams for his late colleague, George A. Castor, of the Third Pennsylvania district, who, dying before he could occupy it, Mr. Adams selected the seat for himself, one of those unexplainable coincidences which come without warning.

POISONED BY EATING BERRIES

BERKELEY, June 1.—As a result of eating strawberries for dinner last night, Mr. and Mrs Carl C. Crapentine of 1911 Harmon street almost lost their lives

The berries had been mixed with Paris green to keep out the insects, and when they were eating them Mr. and Mrs Crapentine were seized with convulsions.

By the time Dr. M. M Rowley, who was summoned, arrived both were unconscious. He worked over them for over an hour and succeeded in saving their lives.

TO OUST SENATOR SMOOT

DUBOIS' RESOLUTION.

The decision was on Senator Dubois' resolution offered at the meeting two weeks ago, which was carried by Senators Burrows, Dolliver, Pettus, Overman, Bailey and Dubois and Frazier voting in the affirmative, and Senators Foraker, Dillingham, Hopkins, Beveridge and Knox in the negative. The vote of Senator Depew was not cast. Votes were had on the constitutional questions of expulsions and exclusion, after which the members of the committee expressed themselves in favor of an investigation in the Senate at the present session of Congress.

SEAT VACANT.

Senator Burrows introduced a resolution declaring that it is the sense of the committee that Senator Smoot's seat shall be declared vacant. If carried this would be equivalent to a recommendation that he be excluded by a majority vote. It was lost by a vote of 7 to 5, the affirmative votes being Senators Burrows, Dolliver, Pettus, Dubois and Frazier and the negative votes being Senators Foraker, Dillingham, Hopkins, Beveridge, Knox, Bailey and Overman.

TO BE EXPELLED.

Senator Bailey then offered a resolution declaring the sense of the committee to be that Senator Smoot should be expelled from his seat, which would be a recommendation that the Senate take the course requiring a two-thirds vote of the Senate to unseat him. The result was a tie vote, Senators Burrows, Pettus, Dubois, Bailey, Overman and Frazier in the affirmative and Senators Foraker, Dolliver, Beveridge, Dillingham, Hopkins and Knox in the negative.

THE DEBATE.

The debate during the deliberation was indulged in by nearly every Senator Senators Bailey and Overman, who argued in favor of the resolution declaring that the Senator is not entitled to his seat were of the opinion that after the oath has ben administered to a Senator the only possible procedure against him is to expel him from his seat and that there could be no question as to this procedure requiring a two-thirds vote of the Senate. The Senators voting in favor of the method requiring only a majority of the Senate to unseat, argued that the offense, if any, has been committed, existed at the time the oath of office was taken, and that the protests are not in relation to any offense of origin since the oath was taken. During the last week petitions have been sent to Senators from nearly every State and Territory protesting against Senator Smoot being retained as a member of the Senate. The signers were women and from nearly every State.

ISSUE BEFORE SENATE.

The effect of the resolution adopted would be to place squarely before the Senate the question whether Senator Smoot shall continue in his seat and leaves to that body the decision as to method of procedure. A majority, it is said, can declare that it is the sense of the Senate that Senator Smoot be excluded and under the form of the resolution proceed to unseat him by that method. Chairman Burrows is of the opinion as is also Senator Dubois, who has directed the fight against the Utah Senator, that the Senate can decide for itself the procedure, and that if the majority says to exclude instead of expel that will be the method pursued.

The report under instructions of the committee, will be ready to be offered to the Senate on Friday next. Chairman Burrows and Senator Dubois express themselves as confident that a vote will be had at the present session.

KING IN DANGER OF DEATH

house, 88 Mayor street, before which the explosion occurred, was covered with holes, and blood dripped from the curtains of a window on the first floor.

In the apartment of the Duke of Ahumada the Machioness Tolosa and her daughter were killed. One body was jammed in the balcony railing and was removed with difficulty.

ARRESTS MADE.

Eighty-eight Mayor street and all the near-by houses were surrounded by police, who prevented ingress or egress until they had been thoroughly searched A tenant on the third floor and a young man who was leaving the house were among those arrested. The crowd tried to lynch the prisoners, and the police only prevented it by charging.

Numbers of people hurried to the scene to seek news of relatives, but they were not allowed to enter the buildings. The Marquis of Tolosa, ignorant of the death of his wife, was one of those who arrived, and the guards at first refused to admit him. Finally, however, he was allowed to enter and a heartrending scene followed.

IS MARVELOUS.

The coolness of the young king was marvelous. On reaching the palace after the explosion he sent adjutants to assist the wounded, and later sent officers among the families of the victims, doing everything possible to console with and assist the sufferers.

Queen Christina, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the Archduke and Archduchess Francis Ferdinand of Austria had already reached the palace and were waitng for the king and queen with the infantas.

BLOODY SCENE.

When some time elapsed without the royal coach appearing, the Prince of Wales and Infanta Theresa, who stood waiting at the palace entrance, became deeply anxious and they were more disturbed when they saw the empty coach arrive with its bloody horses.

But the royal family were finally relieved when they saw the king and queen arrive. Queen Christina embraced them and uttered her deep thankfulness at their escape. The Princess of Wales was also solicitous regarding the victims and asked for information about the fate of Marchioness Tolosa.

MORE ATTEMPTS.

It is asserted that letters were received in government quarters last night saying that this would not be the last attempt, as the band of conspirators had declared its intention to keep up the effort. This led to a discussion of the adjournment of some of the main features of the fetes in which the royal family were to be conspicuously present.

The tragic event has already cast a deep gloom over the festivities. The people no longer show liveliness and hilarity. There was a magnificent display of fireworks, with singing and dancing last night, but they proceeded with lack of spirit.

A pall seems to have fallen over the community.

GREAT COURAGE.

The proximity of the coach of Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia to the royal coach at the time of the explosion led many of the spectators to believe that the attempt had been against his life, but later it was generally accepted that it was directed against the king and queen.

The courage of the latter was greatly admired. She was somewhat overcome with emotion at first, but the king calmed her, saying that it was nothing serious. Later she recovered her self possession and bore herself well throughout the trying ordeal.

Some of those who saw the young queen alight from the royal coach just after the explosion say that her bridal veil touched the bloody pools on the pavement, and that it bore an impress of the terrible scene as she returned to the palace.

PETER LOHMAN BROUGHT INTO COURT

Former Baseball Player Has Much Property to Be Looked After.

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—George F. Lohman, better known in baseball circles as "Pete" Lohman, catcher and manager for years of the Oakland ball team, was brought before Judge James in department two of the superior court today on a charge of insanity.

His examination will take place later.

Lohman is forty years old.

He retired from business several years ago.

He owns a house and lot on Hill street, valued at $35,000 and has real estate worth $10,000 in St. Paul and other land in Los Angeles county aggregating $8000 in value.

With his wife and their three-year-old son Lomhan made his home in Ocean Park.

He had had two strokes of paralysis within a year, and physicians who have examined him have declared him an incurable paretic.

be opened within ninety days and probably much sooner. Of course before there are any licenses granted there will have to be a revision of the tax imposed on saloons. The sum of $84 which has been heretofore imposed is inadequate and some action will be taken to raise the amount of the licenses.

"Personally I favor taxing the saloons at least $500 a year. I understand that the saloon men are willing to pay $400 for the privilege of conducting their business, but I think that the amount should be $600.

"The city is rapidly resuming normal conditions and those having money invested in the liquor business are under the law entitled to consideration. For that reason the matter of opening the saloon will be taken up at an early date and finally disposed of. There will be restrictions at first which will be modified as the circumstances warrant."

ON OAKLAND'S WATERFRONT

NEW STEAM SCHOONER IS HERE ON HER MAIDEN TRIP.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT, June 1.—At the present time there is a lull in the shipping activity. However, it is only temporary, as many vessels are said to be loading cargoes for this port.

The new steam schooner Washcalore made this city the destination of her maiden trip. She was built at Coos bay and brought from that poitn about 600,000 feet of pine lumber. The trip was made in tow of a tug, and after the cargo has been discharged the Washcalore will cross the stream in order that she may be fitted with her engines and boilers. She will be used in the lumber service entirely.

The schooner Alpace is unloading a load of lath and scantlings which she brought over from San Francisco at the Adams wharf. The lumber is consigned to the Hogan Lumber Company.

The steamer Del Norte is at the Adams wharf with a cargo of redwood for the Fisher Lumber Company.

The Oregon Coal and Navigation Company's steamer Plant came to her berth at the Webster street wharf yesterday with a cargo of coal from Coos bay.

The schooners Sadie and Charles R. Wilson are still engaged unloading their cargoes at the Sunset Lumber Company's docks.

CHARLES NEWMAN SEEKS LICENSE

PROPRIETOR OF THE RICHLIEU WANTS TO LOCATE IN OAKLAND.

Charles Newman, whose enchiladas gained him fame as the proprietor of the Richlieu saloon at the corner of Market and Geary streets, in San Francisco, and who later conducted the Russ House, was up before the license committee of the city council last night for a permit to sell liquor in a cafe and grill he proposes to establish at 1011 Broadway. Against his petition, however, there was a protest signed by L. H. Briggs, F. W. Diehl, N. C. Miller, A. C. Porterfield, C. L. Wood, F. V. Du Srutz, O. I. Denison, E. Barnet, G. A. Williams, J. Heley, P. C. Lassen, John C. Swett, T. C. Krause, D. C. F. Jarvis, Dr. D. H. Wallace, C. Mulisich, E. Pugh, E. J. Fitzgerald, William Strathearn, A. W. Smith, G. L. Schmidt, Devereaux Walton, David Hughes and George Willzen. In the face of this protest the committee was at a loss how to act and laid the matter over until Newman had an opportunity to see if he could not get this objection withdrawn.

"I propose to put in a first-class cafe and grill in this place," said Nedman, "where a man can get a chop or a steak and I want the privilege of selling liquor to him if he wants it with his meal. Some of these people, after they had signed my petition, signed the protest as well, and I cannot understand such action. I have never conducted anything but a first-class place in my life and intend putting in a place here that Oakland can be proud of."

"TOWN NEEDS IT."

Councilman Pendleton—There is no question but the town needs just such a place, as any one will discover who tries to lunch downtown. The numbers of people here now make this matter a serious one.

"I can say for Mr. Newman that he conducted a grill under the Russ House in San Francisco near my place of business, where I often went and I never considered it in the light of a saloon."

Councilman Elliott—I have known Mr. Newman for many years and his places were always well kept and orderly. I don't believe that if Mr. Newmah explains to these protestsant just the kind of a place he intends to open up that there will be any objection unless there is a nigger in the woodpile somewhere and these people have a fight on.

Attorney Carl Wood, appearing for L. H. Briggs, stated that his client had signed Newman's petition and later signed the protest when he heard the place was to be a saloon.

"STAB IN THE BACK."

Chairman Baccus—I don't see how we can grant this license in the face of this protest. You had better explain this matter to these people.

Newman—I have always gone to the front in San Francisco and helped conventions or any other kind of a meeting there that the citizens wanted. I am willing to be investigated from my birth to the present time, and I would take it as a stab in the back if this application is turned down.

"I was completely burned out in San Francisco and am trying to start up here and propose to put up a hotel on the site of these premises as soon as I can get on my feet a little."

Councilman Burns—We will hold this matter in the committee. It has not been turned down and in the meantime try and see some of these people and get them to withdraw their objection.

This was considered the best way out of the matter and it was laid over one week.

SHELDON ESTATE IS TO BUILD

PLANS TO ERECT A SEVEN-STORY STRUCTURE AT FIRST AND MARKET.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—The Mark Sheldon estate has had plans prepared for a structure to be erected on the southeast corner of First and Market streets. Its height will be seven stories, and it is to be constructed of reinforced concrete and steel. Stores are to occupy the ground floor, while the upper stories will be used for offices.

Prior to the fire, there was on that corner a five-story building. The location is considered a choice one.

The frontage is 82 feet on Market street, with a depth of 137 feet on First street.

Work on the new building is to be hastened. The people interested in the Mark Sheldon estate are confident of having it ready for occupancy within twelve months after construction has begun. Its cost is to be $250,000. The architect has assured the heirs that it will be both earthquake and fireproof and that the lessons taught builders by the recent disaster were borne in mind when he prepared the plans.

The estate owns considerable downtown property, and all of it is to be improved in course of time, for those interested have unbounded faith in the future of San Francisco.

MUST DIE FOR KILLING A MAN

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 1.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the decision in the case of "Lord" F. Seymour Barrington, condemned to death for the murder of James P. McCann, and fixed the date of execution for July 26.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt is in receipt of a cablegram from Mr. Whitridge, the special representative of the United States at the wedding of King Alfonso, relative to the attempted assassination of the king and queen of Spain yesterday. The cablegram is brief, simply reciting the salient points of the outrage. The text of the message follows:

"Mad rid, May 31, 4:35 p. m.—The President: On returning from church after marriage bomb was thrown at king's carriage. Their majesties untouched; carriage wrecked; two horses killed, also aide de camp; soldiers killed and wounded. Great popular rage. Have called among very first and written concerning horror.

BUT IN THE MEANTIME—you will be our welcome guests; you will live here, will enjoy life here and Osgoods' will help to make the friendship lasting. Don't imagine that we want to see Oakland built up at the expense of San Francisco—we don't; such an idea is not businesslike.

A man can make a great noise and attract a lot of attention firing off all his ammunition in a few minutes. But the man who has a big reserve magazine is both safer and saner. Oakland needs the reserve of a great city at her back—it's hard to get rich playing solitaire, but it's different with two partners, each holding a royal flush.

KIND WORDS FOR TEACHERS

MANY LETTERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED BY CITY SUPERINTENDENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—School Superintendent Roncovieri is in receipt of a letter from W. T. Carrigan, state school superintendent of Missouri, which reads in part as follows:

"I write to assure you that Missouri is in sympathy with the movement and will contribute her part in doing for the children of San Francisco as we would have them do for us under similar circumstances. Seventy-five per cent of the school children and teachers of our state are now in vacation and after carefully considering the matter we thought best to wait until September to gather contributions for this purpose. I have announced through the press of the state that we will then make such a collection and we hope to make it large enough to enable the school authorities of San Francisco to erect one large, elegant building to be known as the Missouri school."

Keith Parlor No. 137, N. D. G. W., has originated a movement among the women's clubs of the United States to contribute to the erection of San Francisco school buildings by donating $10 to the fund. Through the officers—Clothilde Brown, president, and Genevieve Carroll, secretary—this parlor is sending a circular letter addressed to all the women's clubs of the country. The following extract shows the nature of this appeal:

"Keith Parlor No. 137, N. D. G. W., has originated and inaugurated the movement to rebuild the schoolhouses of San Francisco, through the united efforts of the women's clubs of America, by itself contributing $10 to start the school rebuilding fund of San Francisco.

"It is not expected that the clubs who have suffered by our calamity, or which have already responded to calls for relief, will be able to respond to this appeal, but, as a matter of courtesy, this circular is sent to all the clubs in the United States through the state federations."

County Superintendent of Schools A. A. Bailey of Contra Costa has addressed the following letter to the teachers of Contra Costa county:

"As the outcome of a suggestion, practically given by the superintendent of schools of Galveston, Texas, a movement has begun among the school children and teachers of the United States to start a contribution to assist in rebuilding the schools of San Francisco.

"The amount asked as a contribution from each pupil is 10 cents, from each teacher $1. The work has already begun and in Contra Costa county the first step has been taken in the matter by the teachers and scholars at Eden Plain. Informed one day of the project, the next day each scholar and teacher had given his mite and turned it over to the county superintendent.

"The movement is characteristically Californian and the children in the state ought to be proud of the opportunity to help the children of the city by the Golden Gate to repair the damage of a great disaster, borne with greater fortitude and cheerfulness than any similar disaster in historic time. The Bank of Martinez will act as treasurer. Any contributions for this purpose may be sent to the bank or to the county superintendent of schools of Contra Costa county."

DESERTED THROUGH FIRE AND EARTHQUAKE

Over 500 of Them in San Francisco

From fifteen to twenty have been delivered every day in Oakland, but there are still some to select from that will astonish you in matter of quality and price. All we get is the unpaid balance on old accounts, which in some cases means next to nothing.

We have $300 pianos as well as $75; $400 and $500 pianos as low as $150.

We also have some new instruments, which were in our Oakland warerooms, slightly damaged through falling plaster, which we are ordered by factory to sell at cost, less freight. These instruments are absolutely the same as when fresh from the factory, when repolished. If you are ever going to be in the market for a piano, now is the opportunity of a lifetime. We must place them somewhere, therefore your terms are our terms.

To all our customers whose pianos were destroyed, our factory instructs us to replace same with a new instrument at actual factory price, with freight added, and on your own terms.

WORKERS FOR PEACE HAVE ADOPTED PLATFORM

Plan Way for Justice to Be Secured Without Going to War.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., June 1.—The following platform of the conference of international arbitration was adopted today:

"The members of this conference with great satisfaction call attention to the steady progress which the world is making in the promotion of international arbitration. They place on record their appreciation of the character and services of John Hay, the late secretary of state, and acknowledge that to him lasting gratitude is due for the foresight, firmness and wisdom with which in his high official station he upheld the principles which this conference has advocated.

FOR JUSTICE.

"They have heard with gratification that in many of the leading colleges and universities of this country the undergraduate students have been led to the study of methods by which justice may be secured among nations without resort to war.

"This conference has welcomed to its proceedings the representatives of fifty chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other commercial organizations and it urges upon them and other like institutions not now represented here to consider and act upon the measures which are from time to time proposed for the promotion of peace.

"This conference regards the approaching assembling of a Pan-American congress in Rio Janeiro as likely to promote mutual understanding and consequent good will among the states of North, Central and South America.

HAGUE CONFERENCE.

"At the present time it is important that public attention should be concentrated upon the second Hague conference soon to be assembled. We hope and believe that the beneficial results of the former conference will be equaled and perhaps surpassed by further deliberation from the land of Grotius upon the principles of international law and the best methods for the pacific settlement of international difficulties.

"Especially we hope that the second Hague conference will elaborate and propose a plan by which like conferences may be held at stated periods and that in the intervals appropriate offices may be maintained at The Hague so that these conferences may become a permanent and recognized advisory congress of the nations.

GENERAL ARBITRATION.

"A general arbitration treaty to be formulated by The Hague conference is most desirable and will doubtless be accepted by all or nearly all the countries represented in the conference.

"Among other subjects of immediate importance the many unsettled questions arising out of maritime warfare including the exemption of private property from seizure at sea are respectfully commended to the consideration of The Hague conference. As the general restriction of armaments can be secured by concurrent international action as unanimously raised by the British house of commons, we earnestly hope that this subject will receive a favorable consideration.

"While we shall welcome any action taken by the coming Hague conference in the way of clearly defining the rights and obligations of belligerents as to each other and as to neutrals; of lessening the horrors of war and of giving increased stability and protection to the Red Cross movement, it is our hope that the conference will remember that it is consecrated to the great work of ending as well as softening war and of subjecting the relations of nations to the dominion of law rather than force.

STAFFORD MAKES REPORT

ENCOURAGES THE PAYING OF A HIGHER RATE OF WAGES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Preparatory to closing the free employment bureau which has been operated under the direction of the National Red Cross Society, the following report was filed with Dr. Edward T. Devine yesterday from W. V. Stafford, who has had charge of the bureau since it was started a few days after the fire. In his report Mr. Stafford encourages the paying of a higher rate of wages and shows by actual figures that work of all classes is plentiful throughout the city. He says:

"San Francisco, May 29, 1906.

"Dr. Edward T. Devine, San Francisco, Cal.—Dear Sir: I beg to report to you that the free employment bureau operated for the National Red Cross during the four weeks ending today has registered for employment 3140 males and 491 females. Of these we have been able to furnish employment directly to upward of 1100 men and 98 women. In addition to this considerably more than 100 skilled mechanics were furnished employment through their respective organizations in this city.

"I inclose a list of the registration, male and female, by occupation followed previous to the fire. In nearly every instance the men who were employed through this office were engaged for ordinary unskilled labor. The ration of men employed to the number of men registered in the several ocupations varies but little.

"Undoubtedly a great number of the applicants for work in the earlier period of registration, failing to receive immediate aid here, secured their employment directly with the contractor.

"I regret to state that in the hurry of registration our assistants failed in a great many instances to ascertain all the facts. We have, however, definite information of 1117 married men supporting 2740 dependent members of their families, and during the entire time we have given precedence to those men in filling orders for employment.

"Since the banks have opened for regular business and money as a consequence has been within the reach of employers there has been a great falling off in the registration, an indication that men have been able to secure employment for themselves. While there is without doubt a large army of unemployed in San Francisco, yet there is but little demand for any class of labor except the skillful mechanic and the strong, unskilled laborer preceding and accompanying him.

"During the time this office has been in operation it has been my policy to encourage as far as possible the belief that even this great catastrophe should not very materially disturb rates and conditions of labor. A great increase in wages would no doubt invite great numbers from other states and deter building, while a reduction in wages would make the financial recovery of the retail business man practically impossible.

"Taking into consideration these facts I have decided to close this office, and so far as we are concerned allow the employer and employe to come together without our assistance.

"In closing I desire to express my high appreciation of the aid rendered by the school department of this city. Yours very truly, W. V. STAFFORD.

"State Labor Commissioner."

HUNTING WITH A CAMERA.

Camera hunting is instructive and fascinating in this day when so many of our song and game birds are being exterminated.

How much greater the pleasure and satisfaction in obtaining a fine negative of a bird feeding her young than wantonly taking her life. Moreover, in this sport there is no close season, no restriction as to what, when or where you shall hunt. Anything from a humming bird t oan eagle, a mouse to an elephant, is your legitimate game. Again, if you belong to the great army whose time is fully occupied for six days of the week, making it almost impossible to be afield during that time, you can go out of a Sunday with a camera and not be classed with the heathen, as you are sure to be when carrying a gun.

It is not necessary to have an expensive outfit, for very good work can be done with an ordinary folding camera. Simply purchase one as good as your purse will allow.—James H. Ford in May Outdoors

A BAD CASE OF SABBATH BREAKING.

On a recent Monday morning the pastor of a church in Virginia was the recipient of a basket of strawberries brought to him by a little girl of the parish.

"Thank you very much, my dear," said the minister. "These berries are as fine as any I've ever seen. I hope, however, that you did not gather them yesterday—the Sabbath."

"No, sir," replied the child. "I pulled 'em early this mornin', but they was a-growin' all day yesterday."—From Harper's Weekly.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Suppress Wildcat Insurance.

The attitude of some of the insurance companies continues to be exasperating and a source of uneasiness. On the other hand, several of the larger companies are manifesting a commendable spirit of fairness in dealing with policyholders These gratifying exceptions adjust their losses on an equitable basis without quibbling and pay promptly without asking for any arbitrary discounts. If all the companies would only pursue the same policy the financial situation would immediately clear up.

Unfortunately, however, a majority of the companies appear to be more concerned with evading their losses than paying them. The attorney for the Traders' Company, the Chicago concern that threw up its hands and welshed immediately after the fire, put in plain words what others are only hinting at and adroitly suggesting, namely, the difficulty of making companies pay by legal process. The burden of this man's song was the long delay which must ensue if the stockholders of his swindling corporation should avail themselves of every recourse known to the law to avoid their legal and moral liability. He did not discuss such matters as honesty and decency, but brutally told the policyholders that they had better take sixty per cent if they did not want a long fight in the courts with the chance of getting much less in the end.

This man appeared for individual stockholders whom he would not name. The name of every director and stockholder in the Traders' Insurance Company of Chicago ought to be ascertained and published to the world. This ought to be done that the public may know the identity of the men who are trying to beat their creditors by threats of harassing and unjustifiable litigation.

It appears that the Traders' Company, with a paid up capital of $500,000 and a reserve fund of $1,300,000, had underwritten fire risks to the extent of $160,000,000, or nearly $100 for every dollar of assets the company possessed. Over $5,000,000 of this enormous liability is in San Francisco, the net losses in that city alone being more than two and a half times the total assets of the corporation.

One may well ask himself if this kind of insurance insures. It is certainly not a safe business; in the case of the Traders' Company it is not an honest business. Being neither safe nor honest, should it be allowed? Another question: How many other insurance companies are gambling on a shoestring, collecting premiums on the theory that there will be no heavy losses to pay? It is up to the Legislature to find out and to enact stringent laws against wildcat insurance companies and swindling insurance methods.

Recently a delegation of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick from Philadelphia pleaded with the President to appoint a great grandson of Commodore John Barry, "Fighting Jack Barry," of the Revolution, to the naval academy. Publication of this appeal has brought out the statement from the Commodore's biographer that the old naval hero left no descendants. In a letter to the President, Martin I. J. Griffin, publisher of "American Catholic Historical Researches" and author of a "Life of Commodore Barry," makes this statement:

"Commodore Barry, though twice married, was, like Washington, childless The number of Barrys who claim to be descended from the old commodore would make a regiment. I have heard of them from all parts of the country."

It is easy to guess the answer that will be made to the petition of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, of Philadelphia. Doubtless they were imposed upon, but the President is not likely to favor a young man who is trying to get a naval commission under false pretenses.

The Stockton Independent labors under the impression, at least it says it does, that the Examiner is criticising Mayor Schmitz because William R. Hearst desires to kill off a political rival. This is more ingenious than plausible. Mr. Hearst is being actively urged as a Democratic candidate for Governor of New York and for the Presidency. Mayor Schmitz is not a Democrat and cannot be said to stand in Hearst's way as a candidate for either of the exalted positions for which he is urged. Evidently the Stockton paper will have to look for some other reason to account for the Examiner's attacks on the Mayor of San Francisco—that is, unless it is willing to accept the reasons the Examiner gives.

Hints for Campers.

The April bulletin of the State Board of Health contains a number of excellent suggestions for campers. At this season of the year residents of the cities, in large numbers, betake themselves to the fields and mountains and for two or three months lead a delightful outdoor life which acts like a tonic to the system. It too often happens, however, that the campers are careless about starting forest fires and polluting streams and lakes. In regard to the pollution of watercourses the State Board has this to say:

"The healthful condition of the large camps in San Francisco should be a lesson to all campers as to their own safety. The water that looks so pure and which is drunk so freely may be badly polluted. It is well to examine the stream and see if some one is not camping above you and using it as a sewer. Possibly a corral or a farmyard may be just above. If pollution is found, either move, or boil for fifteen minutes all water used. Back from the creek you should dig a vault for a toilet, and all garbage should be either buried or burned. Allow no place to exist where flies can breed, for they are the carriers of disease. Uncooked vegetables are sometimes poisoned by the fertilizer used or by being irrigated with sewage water. If near mineral springs, don't drink too freely from them, for much harm sometimes results from this excess.

"Above all, don't pollute the stream and endanger the lives of those below who may want to use the water."

The board might also have added that the cleaner a camp is the pleasanter it is. A dirty camp is a place of bad smells and other disagreeable features of human life. Furthermore, campers should refrain from defacing nature and destroying animal and vegetable life. Vandalism only makes the country less attractive and destroys the feeling of kinship of the human soul with nature in her sweetest moods.

A few days ago the Los Angeles Herald complained of the disposition in other parts of the State to speak ill of California. Four days after making this complaint the Herald printed this kindly, truthful paragraph in its editorial columns:

"Oakland tried the lid Sunday, and found it all right; it didn't make the town any deader than usual. It couldn't."

In another paragraph the Herald speaks of the drunken riot in this city. It did not matter to the Herald that the saloons were not open and that there was no drunken riot or riot of any kind in this city. It told a lie in the beginning to give point to another lie, and then threw in a third gratuitous lie for good measure. And that is the way this imported Missouri jackass goes about cultivating kindly relations between Southern California and the other divisions of the State. He is not a true Bourbon, for while he learns nothing he never knew anything to forget.

Secretary Shaw made a great mistake when he told the young men of a naval training school that the world owed each and every one of them a living. The world owes no such obligation. It owes each and every man a fair chance to make a living for himself—no more, no less—and when any man attempts to collect a living from the world that he has not earned he becomes a bummer or a thief.

Tomorrow, Saturday, will be a Day of Great Values at Kahn's Big Store

June 1, 1906.

We've good news tonight.

Tomorrow is going to be a great day. Of course, Saturday always IS a busy day, but tomorrow we will be busier than ever.

In the first place, we just received another big lot of those $15 tailor made suits. That's mighty good news for those who have been waiting. We've plenty now, we think, for everybody. There's an unusually great variety of styles. Some of them look to be worth at least $30. These suits, all of them, ready tomorrow.

In the second place, we've just received a big stock of elbow length kid gloves—black or white, in all sizes. This will be good news to all the folks who have tried so hard to find anything of the kind, of suitable quality. Come early for these if possible.

Furthermore, the Suit Dept. announces they now have a complete line of those long coats. Some are even 58 and 60 inches long (made up to our special order). You can purchase a nobby little 52 inch plaid coat for $4.95, and get a beauty for $25. We are without doubt leaders in this specialty. Why, only yesterday we received an immense shipment, consisting of 52 inch, 54 inch, 56 inch, 58 inch and 60 inch coats, in imported coverts, black broadcloths, mannish mixtures, etc. Some are fancy trimmed and some are strictly man tailored. There should be a rush on account of this announcement alone.

And still another thing of interest is a line of 12 1-2c Ginghams. These have been brought forward and put on a special table near the elevator. Of course, you'll have to SEE these, for "Ginghams at 12 1-2c" doesn't mean much. But wait till you see them! Oh, it's a beautiful line! And right now is the right time, too, for you can get right to work on your summer dresses. Everybody is wearing ginghams, you know.

Then, to cap the climax, a big lot of ladies' black silk stockings, with silk embroidered boots, came in by express. Goodness knows how many people have been waiting for these. The prices run from $1.75 to $2.75 pair. These, with our big new line of black lisle stockings, both with lace and embroidered foot, make our stock very complete.

BUT GREATEST OF ALL THE GOOD NEWS is the arrival of 60 cases (think of it) of Sorosis Shoes. NOW, we've plenty for everybody. The railroad company kindly delivered these on Decoration Day (a holiday) which with today and yesterday enabled us to check them all off and prepare them for tomorrow's selling.

Now, isn't that all good news? And won't tomorrow be a great day at Kahn's? Yes, indeed, it will. Come in and help us celebrate.

Thousands Now Know What They O'erlooked for Years

ONE OF THE LESSONS OF APRIL 18, 1906.

Not very long ago—about six weeks—there was a well-grounded, but ill-founded, idea among many people that it was necessary to go to San Francisco to satisfy their wants.

The ladies, especially of Alameda county, that were devoted to the practice of crossing the bay have made a big discovery, and they are telling us of it every hour. They have learned that there is, right at home, a spring welling forth good things just as clear and satisfactory, and in just as good variety, as was ever to be found in the source of supply that was so far away.

These facts have been known for seventeen years to the daily crowds of satisfied shoppers who have thronged The Lace House; but now all come and they're joined by thousands from across the bay, and who return equally well satisfied and surprised.

Nor have the new conditions worked any change in the principles upon which the H. C. Capwell Company's store has been established—the tongues are much larger and the grooves much wider and deeper, but they dovetail equally true. Bigger stocks, a bigger army of help, bigger accommodations, greater responsibilities; but the principles of right merchandising and absolutely fair treatment of good for ten thousand are better for a hundred thousand.

FLOUR QUESTION DISCUSSED

COMMITTEE IS NOT READY TO OPEN BIDS FOR GOODS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Yesterday afternoon's session of the finance committee was devoted wholly to the consideration of the flour question. Strenuous objection was made by the American Milling Company, the Globe Grain and Milling Company and by V. Grothwell, representing a number of milling interests, to the confirmation of the reported sale of some 80,000 barrels of flour to the Sperry Mills, McNear and Schwabacher at $2.25 a barrel.

President W. E Keller of the Globe Milling Company addressed the committee, saying that the fire has curtailed the output at least two-thirds and that the loss in manufacture will amount to fully 70,000 barrels. He objected to the idea of exporting flour on the ground that it will be needed in California. In answer to the statement that many people have left San Francisco, he replied that they had not left the state and that they would require flour.

Attorney Charles P. Eells spoke in behalf of the three mills that put in the bid at $2.25 a barrel, urging that the committee should not demoralize the local market and that it should require the goods to be exported. He insisted that the committee had already made the sale and that it was too late to talk about rescinding.

In response to a question as to the origin of the idea of selling the flour, Mr. Pollok said the invitation came through the McNears of the Port Costa Milling Company, and that McNear had said he represented 85 per cent of the mills of the state.

Mr. Phelan wanted to know whether giving away flour would not also demoralize the market, and it was agreed that there would be no complaint if the flour were given away, provided the people needed it.

H. H. Young of Young & Swayne said the consumption of flour was about a barrel per capita per year and that the flour on hand would readily supply 70,000 persons for one year.

Horace Davis explained that he desired to set at rest a false report that his presence on the committee was in his personal interest. He branded the report as slanderous.

C. S. Laumeister answered that he presumed the speaker meant him. He would say that when he had heard of the sale at a ridiculously low price to three individuals, without consultation with the trade, he had expressed his amazement that flour should be sold at such a price. He believed it the duty of the committee to get all it could for the flour regardless of the effect the sale might have on the milling trade. The supreme duty was to raise all possible for those poor people to whom the flour was sent.

The committee went into executive session and during the intermission flour men who oppose the deal expressed themselves to the effect that the flour on hand is the finest Eastern brand, better than any California flour, and that much of it is worth $5 a barrel. If it should be sold at $2.25 it would be a serious blow to the city. Eastern people who are donating flour and other things would conclude that the things sent are going to the private purses of those who deal with the finance committee.

The committee decided to withhold opening bids and to have all correspondence affecting the flour transcribed so that every point will be before the committee at its next meeting, a dispute having arisen concerning just what has passed between parties to the proposed deal.

GOVERNOR GOES TO SACRAMENTO

WILL THERE COMPLETE THE CALL FOR SPECIAL SESSION.

Governor Pardee this morning vacated his temporary headquarters at the office of Mayor Frank K. Mott, which he has occupied since the night of April 19, when in response to the message notifying him that the city of San Francisco was in flames, he hurried from the state capitol to the scene of the great disaster.

Governor Pardee returned to Sacramento shortly before noon to-day to complete his call for the extra session of the Legislature, which will be issued to-night, as soon as the provisions of some sections of the call which are now under consideration have been decided upon.

Adjutant-General J. B. Lauck, commander of the National Guard of California, who since the earthquake has also maintained headquarters at the Oakland city hall, from which he directed the work of the National Guard in this city and in San Francisco, will return this evening to Sacramento with the members of his staff, all the guardsmen heretofore on duty in San Francisco having been released from active duty and ordered home.

HEALTH BOARD MAKES OBJECTION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1—The board of health was much agitated yesterday at the report that its expenses were to be reduced in the framing of the budget. Dr Ward, the president, declares the board needs money and extra help now more than it ever did before. The running expenses of the health department have increased, if anything, in the last month, he says.

It is proposed by the board of supervisors to reduce the running expenses of the pesthouse by $3000 and the executive office by $5640. As yet there is no provision contemplated in the budget for the removal of garbage from the camps of the refugees.

Despite the fact that officials of the Spring Valley Water Company assert that the water is now pure enough to drink the board decided not to withdraw the caution concerning it. Consumers are warned to boil all water before using it for drinking or cooking purposes.

Dr. Ragan reported that some progress had been made in the fight against the fly pest. All restaurants have been ordered to use screen doors and windows Several that were slow in complying with the order have been closed.

Dr. Ward will earnestly protest against he proposed reduction in the running expenses of the board of health at the meeting of the board of supervisors this afternoon. The proposed cut means that some heads in the health office are to be lopped.

GAINED 34 POUNDS

AN ANAEMIC WOMAN MADE WELL BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

After Other Remedies Failed She Took Them on Her Doctor's Advice and Has Fully Recovered.

Nothing in medical science is more direct and more reasonably certain than the action of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of anaemia, a disease which is literally a condition approaching bloodlessness and which, if neglected, inevitably results in decline and death. Anaemia is stealthy in approaching its victim and often is well advanced before it is detected. On this account it is necessary to begin treatment as soon as the first symptoms are noted.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Nathaniel Field, of St. Albans, Somerset county, Maine. "I was the palest, most bloodless person you could imagine. My tongue and gums were colorless and my fingers and ears were like wax. I had two doctors and they pronounced my trouble anaemia. I think the disease had been coming on for three years. I was in bed most of the time for two months, July and August, 1905, only sitting up to have my bed made and to rest my back. I had spells of vomiting, could not eat, in fact, did not dare to, I had such distress after eating. My stomach was filled with gas which caused me awful agony.

"The backache I suffered was at times almost unbearable and the least exertion made my heart beat so fast that I could hardly breathe. But the worst of all was the splitting neuralgia headache which never left me for seven weeks. I tried everything I heard of, both external and internal, but could get no relief.

"About the last of August Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me by Dr. J. H. Murphy, of Dexter, Me., and I gave them a trial. About this time I had had several numb spells. My limbs would be cold and without any feeling and the most deathly sensations would come over me. At such times my family thought I was dying. They rushed to my assistance and with friction and hot mustard water restored the circulation.

"Nothing had helped me until I began taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills, in fact, I had grown worse every day. After I had taken the pills a short time I could see that they were benefiting me and one morning I awoke entirely free from pain. The distress after eating disappeared and in three weeks I could eat anything I wanted and suffer no inconvenience I also slept soundly. I have taken several boxes of the pills and have gained in weight from 120 to 154 pounds and am perfectly well now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure anaemia and all anaemic conditions because they actually make new blood. They are not a cure-all They do this one thing and they do it well—they make blood As the blood carries nourishment and medication to all the tissues of the body, this building up of the blood has a direct action on the nerves as well as the muscles It enables every organ of the body to do the work that nature intended and in this way Dr Williams' Pink Pills have corrected serious disorders of the stomach, have revitalized the nervous system and restored to health sufferers from severe nervous disorders. For rheumatism indigestion, nervous headaches, many forms of weakness and debility Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended even if ordinary remedies have been tried without relief.

These pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

FINES COLLECTED IN POLICE COURT

More than $2000 was collected in fines during the month of May in departments 1 and 2 of the police court, $1144 having been collected in department 1 and $1264 in department 2. From the records of the two departments, and from information furnished by Clerk W J. Hennessey of department 1, it appears that fully ninety per cent of the arrests made for drunkenness in the past month have been persons from San Francisco.

From this it would seem that all these so-called refugees have had money with which to purchase liquor, and in nearly one-half the cases in the police court they have also had money enough to pay their fines.

PICKED THE MONEY FROM THE FLOOR

William Tennant, a shingler, was arrested last night on a charge of petty larceny, and his case was set for trial on June 18 by Judge Smith, when the accused was arraigned in the police court this morning. From what the police have been able to learn of the affair, Tennant seems to be the victim of a mistake on the part of his accuser, M. McGurty, who resides at 356 Twenty-third street.

It appears that McGurty, and another man, engaged in a fistic battle in a local saloon, and during the fight, McGurty dropper, as he alsiges, $13 from his pocket, which Tennant picked up and failed to return to him. Tennant, who has been a resident of this city for a number of years, and has always borne a good reputation for honesty, declares that he picked the money up, but believing that McGurty's opponent hadr dropped it, handed it to the wrong man after the fight was over.

John W. Collins, who informed Police Judge Smith that until the 15th of May he had been employed as a Southern Pacific state railroad police officer, appeared in the police court this morning to answer to charges of drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons, a thirty-eight caliber revolver having been found in his pocket when he was arrested last night in West Oakland for drunkenness Judge Smith sentenced Collins to $5 or three days on the first charge, and to $10 or five days on the second, the accused having pleaded guilty to both charges.

GAVE HIS COUSIN A GOOD THRASHING

Because he resented the fact that his cousin, Woo Way Quong, had so far forgotten the demands of good breeding as to expectorate on the floor of his domicile at 612½ Ninth street, Woo Lee, a native of the land of the dowager empress, attempted to avenge the insult according to the American code, with his fists, the result being that the belligerent celestial landed in the city prison on a charge of battery.

When his case was called in department 2 of the police court this morning, Woo Lee promptly pleaded guilty, and cheerfully paid a fine of $20, seemingly considering that he had got his money's worth in the punishment administered to his cousin.

Suspicion was at once directed to the hodcarrier, and he was placed under arrest last Friday by Detective Hodgkins, who, on the following day recovered the stolen money from a barn in West Berkeley where it had been concealed by Saulter.

GLOVE ARTISTS UNDER THE BAN

GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK IS LATEST TO PROCEED AGAINST FISTIC FOLLOWERS.

NEW YORK June 1—What is believed to be a death blow to prize fighting on any extensive scale in New York City was administered by Governor Higgins when he issued an order to Nicholas J Hayes sheriff of New York county directing the latter to enforce the law. The order was issued in Albany and had not been received by the sheriff. So soon as he received word of what the Governor had done Mr Hayes began to arrange immediately for ways and means to carry out the mandate of the chief executive.

Mayor McClellan refused to comment on the action of the Governor. The order of the Governor comes as a complete surprise to the majority of those who have been patronizing the various bouts that have been held within the last month.

In sporting circles there was a feeling that amounted to consternation. One manager of a fighting club who is known widely in this and other cities declared when he heard the Governor's order that the game was up. It was also stated in the Albany advice the recent ten round bout between Jimmy Britt and Terry McGovern at the Madison Square Garden was the direct cause of the Governor's action.

The Governor has declared to friends that it is notorious that fights for prizes have been conducted in New York without police interference for some time and he is determined to put a stop to it. No formal complaint has been made to the Governor until the present time.

Hearing in the case of Terry McGovern and Jimmy Britt who were arrested last Tuesday on the charge of taking part in a prize fight was held yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Brown in chambers at the Jefferson Market Court. After several witnesses had been examined the hearing was adjourned until today.

Police Commissioner Bingham in a statement regarding the orders to Sheriff Hayes declared that the police have made 110 arrests for prize fighting since January 1 and eleven arrests for aiding and abetting prize fighting. He said that most of the cases had been turned out of court and that the trouble seems to arise over the interpretation of the law by the lower courts.

DICK HYLAND SIGNS TO FIGHT KID GOODMAN

"DICK" HYLAND.

BOSTON, Mass, June 1—"Fighting Dick" Hyland, the San Francisco boxer who stopped "Young Corbett" the former featherweight champion, in five rounds when they met at Salt Lake a few weeks ago, is in town and will be matched to fight Kid Goodman at the Lincoln Athletic club one week from last night.

With Hyland is his manager, Sammy McClintock, and Alec Greggains, the San Francisco promoter.

Matchmaker Pierce wanted to sign up Goodman and Hyland for next Monday night, but Manager McClintock would not listen to such a proposition.

He wants ample time to get his boy into shape, as he realizes that Goodman is a tough proposition.

He agreed to meet Goodman on the evening of the 7th of June.

FIGHT CARD OF RELIANCE CLUB

GOOD PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT.

The Reliance Club has announced the entire list of events that are to be presented at the club rooms next Tuesday night, and judging from the number of fast boxers they have signed up, the spectators will be kept in a thrill of excitement from the tap of the bell for the first contest until the last one is over.

The double main event between Frank Flores vs Henry League and Chris Hampton vs H. Davis is alone worth more than the price of admission. It looks to be the best double event that has ever been pulled off in Oakland.

The rest of the card consists of matches between such well known performers as Al Emerick vs Eddie Menny, Willie Edwards vs W Haden, J Irwin vs J Thomas and Loren Brown vs T Burns. The contest between Emerick and Menny will be an exceptionally clever and hard fought one as both boys are ambitious to become shining lights in their chosen profession.

Emerick is one of the fastest boys at his weight on the coast and will no doubt be the favorite. Menny is the boy who gamely fought on in the last Olympic tournament with a broken hand and looked to be a winner when Grane stopped the bout, declaring that he would not see such a game boy run the risk of being knocked out.

Seats will be placed on sale in a few days.

EVENTS PLANNED BY RELIANCE CLUB

The rapid increase in membership of the Reliance Athletic Club is an indication of the ever popular methods employed by the organization and the many features of interest that are afforded those who become affiliated with the club. Nineteen new members were received at a meeting last night and other applications remain to be acted upon.

The management of the club has many good things in store for the coming months. The boxing exhibition next Tuesday evening promises to be one of the best ever given by the club. Seats are now being erected in the new gymnasium on Twentieth street and particular pains are being taken to insure everyone being afforded a good view of the ring.

Preparations are being made for a club smoker or jinks in the near future, which promises to be something entirely out of the ordinary. The exact date has not been set but it is to be some time in the present month.

A club run is also planned for the near future, as well as a moonlight tramp to Mount Tamalpais. The skating feature, an innovation since the change in the club's quarters, is proving very popular. Owing to the fact that it will be impossible to take the seats down in time to clear the floor for next Wednesday evening skating will probably not be indulged in, but on the following Wednesday a large skating party is to be held, to which members will be privileged to bring their feminine friends and relatives. Music will be supplied and an evening of pleasure on wheels is anticipated.

The Reliance Club expects to take an active part in outdoor sports this summer and fall, and the leaders in various lines will be busily engaged in planning events.

GOOD GAME AT IDORA PARK

SAN FRANCISCO WINS FROM FRESNO BY SCORE OF 2 TO 0.

The best ball game of the season was witnessed at Idora park yesterday afternoon, when San Francisco downed Fresno by the score of 2 to 0. The feature of the game was the twirling of young Randolph the ex-Alameda high school pitcher, who was loaned to San Francisco by Oakland. The youngster was remarkably steady under fire the Fresnoites doing their best to retire him but without success.

The game as stated was the best seen this season at the local grounds. For almost eight innings not a man was able to reach the home plate although on several occasions both sides had men on third base ready to score if given a chance. Leinke who did the twirling for the Raisin-eaters was not far behind Randolph and it was really not his fault that San Francisco won the game. The blow-up came in the eighth inning when Mohler and Irwin hit safely in succession giving the Seals a good start. However Mohler was caught off of second and should have been retired at third but Eagan made a bad peg to third the ball getting away from Arellanes and Mohler and coming home. Irwin went to third on the error from where he scored on Williams' fly out to right field.

This was all the scoring done, Fresno being retired in the ninth without a run.

The only time Fresno looked like making a run was when Raisin-eaters got bases full with no one out. It looked like curtains for Randolph for a minute but the youngster pulled himself together and fooled Arellanes the next batsman so badly that he hit a weak grounder which Randolph handled himself, throwing to Wilson at home and the latter pegging to first in time to accomplish a double-play. "Kid" Mohler took care of the next man so that the Fresnoites were shut out without a run.

Besides the work of Randolph, that of Mohler around second base is deserving of special mention. He made several plays of a sensational order on one occasion running clear back into short rightfield and catching a fly from Doyle's bat which was tagged for a safe hit and which would have scored Hogan from second base if he had not nabbed it. At the bat Mohler also hit hard getting two safe drives [illegible] smashing another into Arellanes at third so hard that the fielder fumbled the ball and the Kid beat the throw to first.

Randolph besides pitching steady ball held Fresno down to seven hits and struck out six men including the mighty Truck Egan Casey and McLaughlin. At the bat Randolph also showed up well getting one safe drive and hitting the ball well every time he came off.

Prince von Bulow's illness calls attention to the fact that Prince Bismarck had greater physical strength than any of his successors. Bismarck was called the iron chancellor from his policy of blood and iron but a better title to the epithet might have been made out from the iron in his constitution. At the close of the Franco German war which completed his unifying work he was in his fifty sixth year only a year younger than Prince von Bulow now is and the hardest of this work was still before him. The present chancellor has been in harness only six years while Bismarck continuously held office for twenty-eight and although he often suffered from overwork he never had a fainting fit such as that which has prostrated his third successor. Bismarck used to drink hock and mineral water throughout his speeches and on one occasion a correspondent tells how he saw him consume a dozen tumblerfuls of this mixture before he sat down. At lunch before coming to the Reichstag he always drank a bottle of champagne.

PROFESSORS IN RELIEF CAMPS

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA OFFICIALS ENGAGED IN ACTIVE WORK.

BERKELEY, June 1.—The professors and instructors of the university are having a busy season during the interval between the close of the college and the opening of the summer session of the University of California on June 25. Most of the faculty members are engaged in active relief work at the different camps around the bay. The list as prepared by Secretary Hallett of the university shows the large number of men of the university connected with the work and the lines that they have taken up. This list follows:

President Wheeler is a member of the Committee of Forty, which has general supervision of the work of reconstruction; Eugene R. Hallett, secretary to the president, is acting as secretary to Dr Edward T. Devine the special representative of President Roosevelt and the National Red Cross. A. H. Allen secretary of the editorial committee, is secretary of the Berkeley Relief Committee. W. J. Cooper, president of the class of 1906, and a member of the history department, is assistant secretary at the National Red Cross headquarters. Professor C. L. Cory, dean of the college of mechanics is interested in the work of reconstruction. C. Derleth Jr., assistant professor of structural engineering is an organizator of structural materials. J. W. Andrew C. Lawson, professor of mineralogy and geology is at the head of the commission appointed by Governor Pardee to investigate the causes of the conflagration. John D. Isaacs, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, and Professor A. O. Leuschner, director of the Students' observatory, have been associated with Professor Lawson in this work. W. C. Mitchell, associate professor of commerce, acted as assistant to Dr Edward T. Devine. Captain J. T. Nance, professor of military science and tactics, has charge of camps in Berkeley. Carleton H. Parker, secretary for university extension and staff lecturer, is a member of the history committee. Carl C. Plehn, head of the school of commerce is head of the registration department of the Red Cross. Dr. G. F. Reinhardt, professor of hygiene and medical examiner, is sanitary officer at Berkeley; C. S. Many other members of the faculty are working officially or unofficially to do their part in the solving of some of the great problems which face the people of San Francisco.

DECREASE NOTED IN CALL FOR RATIONS

BERKELEY June 1—President Wheeler and Captain Nance inspected the relief camps and found that the number of rations distributed within the last week has decreased. Only 1028 rations were issued to refugees at the last distribution. This number, compared with previous rations issued, shows a steady decrease of about one hundred or one hundred and fifty each week. Food rations were given out to-day, and the crowd of applicants seemed to be quite small.

Captain Nance and President Wheeler inspected the supply and other camps connected with the relief work.

The employment department of the relief work is still kept busy. The last printed report shows that 268 men and 75 women made application for employment. Of these, 92 were notified to report for work and 82 secured employment. Those hoped for not responding or were not getting other work numbered 4, while 11 were sent across the bay to work for the United Railroads company. Six undesirable characters were refused to work were sent out of town.

Mrs. A. P. Merritt of Grant street has received several boxes of shoes and clothing for free distribution among the needy. These articles were purchased and collected in the good people of Dinuba, Tulare county, Cal.

SUMMER SESSION AT BERKELEY

SCHOOL WILL BE OPENED AT UNIVERSITY LATTER PART OF MONTH.

BERKELEY, June 1.—Preparations for the opening of the summer session of the University of California are now under way for the opening of that school on the 25th of this month. Special rates have been obtained from the railroads in order to minimize the expenses of those attending the session. The recorder of the faculties announces that there will be plenty of accommodations in Berkeley in spite of the fact that there are a number of refugees in Berkeley. From the number of letters received by the university authorities by prospective students of the session, indications point to a larger attendance than the previous summer sessions. On acount of the loss of the State Normal school of San Jose, due to the earthquake, the session during the summer months which that institution has generally given will be closed this year. This will swell the attendance of the university summer school.

For the benefit of the students of the summer session the following letter has just been issued from the office of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler:

"The special rate of one fare, plus $2, for the round trip to Berkeley, which was made by the railroads on account of the National Educational Association convention, will still be available to the students of the University of California summer school, which opens June 25 and ends August 4. The tickets will be on sale at all stations June 10. Prospective students will pay full fare to Berkeley and take a receipt for it. Upon certification by the recorder of the faculties that they have been in attendance at the summer session a return ticket will be sold to them for $2. The return trip may be made at those special rates any time up to August 31.

"The time limit of the tickets gives one ample opportunity to study the unique situation in San Francisco, either before or after the summer session. There are plenty of accommodations in Berkeley and board and lodging may be had at very reasonable prices. It would be well, however, for students to write to Recorder James Sutton California Hall Berkeley, Cal., and arrange to have reservations made for them. The summer school will be conducted along exactly the same lines as though the San Francisco calamity had not occurred, and from present indications the attendance will exceed that of any previous year."

SAYS SENATOR IS A COWARD

MISS ISABELLA DAVIS DOES NOT BELIEVE SIMPSON WILL PROSECUTE.

ALAMEDA, June 1.—The whole town is talking, discussing and gossiping over the attempted shooting yesterday of Senator M. W. Simpson by Miss Isabel Davis, the young woman who charges the well-known politician, clubman and lawyer with betrayal under promise of marriage.

Miss Davis was detined at the police station yesterday from the time of the shooting until five o'clock in the afternoon. A charge of violating a city ordinance which prevents the discharging of firearms in the city limits, was then placed against her and she was allowed to go on her own recognizance.

Senator Simpson, who went to Oakland immediately after the shooting, to consult his attorney, did not put in an appearance again during the day or evening, and no charge of attempted murder was sworn to.

Miss Davis was very cheerful during her stay in the police office. She stated that she did not believe Simpson would press any charge against her.

"He's too much of a coward," she averred. "I only wish I had been a few more feet away from him, when I started to fire at him. I would have got him then. At first I did not see how I could miss him, for I am a good shot. I am going to keep after him and the next time we meet there will be no witnesses."

Mrs. Davis, the mother of the young woman, stated that she was now awaiting some action on the part of Simpson. "We will make him keep his promises yet," she declared.

URGES OBSERVANCE OF FLAG DAY

BERKELEY, June 1.—Memorial services were held Wednesday night in the First Presbyterian church at the corner of Ellsworth street and Allston way.

Dr. McAfee addressed the G. A. R., saying in part:

"You are honored today by a grateful people. You were 2,778,000 strong once, but you left one-eighth of your numbers in soldiers' graves before the great war was over. Your lines are thinner each year. You are scar-covered, but we honor you for the very scars. When the time comes for the grand review God will not look you over for medals so much as for scars and insofar this nation is like God.

"In the royal gallery of Versailles there is an equestrian portrait of an early French marshal. One wooden leg is in the stirrup, one empty coat sleeve is eloquent of the lost arm; a patch over one side of the face hides the loss of an eye. The inscription is 'He scattered his limbs and his glory everywhere; his blood is on a hundred battlefields; the price of his victories in the warfare in which he has been engaged has left nothing sound about him but his heart. That dauntless heart, sturdy and valiant. The central joy of the real soldier whose pulse beats and radiates in its power.' Your hearts were brave and true in '61-'65 and in the nation's work since.

"We honor you women of the Relief Corps, you wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of our heroic men. The scars of your warfare are not to be seen. But you were ever willing for such servies and your hearts have often been torn deeply.

"In the suspense of quiet waiting; in the brave carrying forward of life in home, business, farm and church; in nursing on the battlefield and by the side of discharged men; in the struggle to reconstruct the national life; in the keeping bright the flames of patriotic fire you have won the nation's esteem.

WISE USE OF A FORTUNE

PRESIDENT WHEELER TELLS OF BEQUEST MADE BY FRESNO RANCHER.

BERKELEY, June 1.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the university has just sent a letter to the press concerning the bequest that has been left to the university by Theodore Kearney, the Fresno rancher. By the provisions of the will the estate of the raisin grower, valued at $750,000, is bequeathed to the university for the establishment and operation of a viticultural experiment station at Fresno.

Of the bequest President Wheeler says: "The bequest of Mr. Kearney represents a wise use of a fortune. I may assume, I think, that the regents will scarcely hesitate to assume the trust involved. Though this trust is primarily to be exercised for the advantage of a single locality, Fresno, it must be remembered that it ultimately and purely inures to the benefit of the whole State of California. While the offices of administration and the formal instruction of the university are located definitely at Berkeley, the university, in a broad sense, occupies the entire state and knows no local residence. It is at the service of the whole state and everywhere present within its boundary. Fresno is the natural center of a great and positively agricultural domain. There can be no doubt that scientific results in many lines of activity could be and will be secured from a regularly established experiment station at this place. Mr. Kearney was very anxious to have the university farm established there and offered to give a tract of land for that purpose.

"The offer was not accepted by the farm commission because the conception of the purpose to which the farm was to be adapted involved two points of view, according to which the site which has now been adopted at Davisville was more suitable. The climate was believed to be better adapted to the maintenance of a secondary school, such as is contemplated in connection with the farm, and the situation of Davisville offered better access of ability to the people of the north and south alike, as well as to the regular students in the agricultural department of the university. With the establishment of a station at Fresno the state will be now wonderfully well equipped. The pathological station, which, under provision of the last legislature, was provided for Southern California, will be situated at Riverside, with an adjunct laboratory for investigation of certain plant diseases at Whittier. Therewith Southern California is admirably provided.

"The station at Fresno will provide for the southern portion of the great valley. Davisville will provide for the central and northern sections. The prospect for a greatly enlarged activity in agricultural experimentation has been suddenly enlarged. For the next year the university has as new material not only the farm at Davisville, the station at Riverside, and the station at Fresno, but the United States money to be derived from the Adams bill, $2400 a year, for the advancing of scientific work in agriculture. Hitherto the means at our disposal for the agricultural work have been ludicrously inadequate to the vast expanse of this state and the variety of its agricultural needs and difficulties. Evidently we are, with the year 1907, to enter upon a new era."

ALAMEDA MOTORMAN STOPS A RUNAWAY

ALAMEDA, June 1.—C. F. Berry, a motorman on the local cars, is now being declared a hero. Wednesday he stopped the mad course of a runaway horse at the corner of Park street and Santa Clara avenue. The horse was attached to a light delivery wagon and ran rapidly north on Park street. Berry was standing near the corner. The corner was thickly peopled with men, women and children waiting to take the cars. Several vehicles and cars added to the congested condition of the corner. Berry grabbed for the horse's bridle but caught a line instead. He was jerked from his feet but hung on till he was thrown down and dragged several feet, the wheels of the vehicle passing over both knes. The horse ran on down Santa Clara avenue. Berry scrambled to his feet and quickly asserted that he was not hurt. His clothing was badly torn and he was wrapped in dust but he said it was nothing and quickly made his escape from the crowd.

ARRESTED YOUTHS CONFESS THEIR THEFTS

ALAMEDA, June 1.—W. J. Brewer and F. C. Knight, two young men of this city, have been arrested and charged with petty larceny. The two are now being detained at the local jail. The complainant is Mrs. Mary J. Ryer of 2325 Pacific avenue, who alleges that the young men have stolen household effects from her home for a year or more.

Brewer has been living at Mrs. Ryer's home. It is claimed that at different times he has taken silverware and other effects and disposed of them through Knight.

Last night Mrs. Ryer called up the police station and notified the police of her suspicions. Detective Brown was detailed on the case, and he caught the young men red-handed. They confessed their thefts to him, but the amount and value of their loot has not been ascertained.

WILL IMPROVE PROPERTY

BERKELEY FIRM PROPOSES TO KEEP IN LINE OF PROGRESS.

BERKELEY, June 1.—The Ferrier-Brock Real Estate Company, which has secured control of the property formerly occupied by Bryon E. Underwood on Stanford place between Center and Addison streets, have completed arrangements for the improving of the place at a cost of about $10,000. Work on these improvements will be started in a few days and when completed the building will be occupied by a barber shop, first-class restaurant, cigar store, and the Key Route waiting room.

The improvements will consist of widening the Stanford place frontage so as to include a driveway which the town board of trustees recently granted the owners permission to close. The barber shop will be located in the rear of the cigar store.

The additions to the old structure will be built of brick in conformity to the building ordinance. Already excavations have been made at the rear of the building for the additions. Beside these additions the real estate men will remodel the interior of their offices. Partitions will be extended to give more room for the use of the firm.

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF USTICA.

One of the results of the volcanic disturbances which have been going on in Southern Italy is the threatened disappearance of the island of Ustica, situated about sixty-seven kilometers from Palermo, Sicily. Ustica is not only of volcanic formation, but is believed to be the summit of a submarine volcano, the crater of which is far down in the depths of the Mediterranean.

The island is nine square kilometers in area and supports a rural and piscatorial population of about 2000, 90 per cent of whom are resident prisoners. That is, they are Italian criminals who are sequestered on the island, where they may do as they please, under certain restrictions, so long as they do not change their residence.

At the first signs of the sinking of the island—according to the last mail advices the water had already mounted thirty-five feet on the shores—the Italian government sent the steamer Napoli to remove the inhabitants.—New York Times.

ROBBERS WORK IN BERKELEY

C. GUENTHER MAKES A COMPLAINT TO THE POLICE.

BERKELEY, June 1.—C. Guenther of South Berkeley complained to the police this morning that his store in South Berkeley, next to the Southern Pacific waiting room, was robbed at an early hour this morning. The thieves gained an entrance to the place by smashing the front window. They entered the store and helped themselves to all the stationery they could take away with them. The police have no clue to the culprits of the deed.

It was only a few days ago that special officer smashed the front windows by sending a bullet through them. He rang the door bell and apologised for his mistake.

LIVING OVER A VOLCANO

Member of Parliament Writes Open Letter to the Emperor.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.—Father Poyarski, a member of parliament, in a violent open letter to the emperor, describes the country as living over a volcano and declares the government's reply to the lower house of parliament proves that it utterly fails to comprehend the temper of the peasantry. He predicts that its refusal to meet the people's wishes in relation to amnesty and the distribution of land will result in a mass movement among the peasants, who in their blind fury will attack not only the landlords, but the intelligencia generally, and treat the country to a reign of blood and fire, before which the world will stand appalled.

It is significant that the Official Messenger has suddenly ceased the publication of provocative Black Hundred telegrams, which were the subject of an interpellation of the government.

Before resuming the debate on the general principles of the agrarian bill, which will be prepared by the lower house of Parliament, by special permission a number of interpellations regarding executions in various parts of the country were presented in the house today and were referred to the committee charged with the preparation of the bill providing for the abolition of the death penalty. The debate on the principles of the agrarian bill farther emphasized the fact that a considerable minority of the Constitutional Democrats intend to fight the radical program for the expropriation of land, to which the entire house at the first flush of enthusiasm committed [illegible]. Prince Lvoff made a strong speech today against the practical nationalization of the land, the logical [illegible] of which would be, he [illegible], a purely socialistic state.

DENICKE IDENTIFIED IN COURT

Three People Saw Him Shoot the Unknown Italian.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Ernest A. Denicke now stands identified as the man who shot an unknown man on Lombard street on April 20.

Three witnesses have identified Denicke, each of them stating "This is the man who did the shooting."

Those who gave evidence against the young son of a millionaire today before Police Judge Shortall were: A. Sbarboro, a local banker, George T. Cameron, who first gave Denicke's name to the police, and Samuel Metcalf, watchman at the wharf. All gave damaging evidence and were unanimous in pointing Denicke out as the man that did the killing.

SAY PLOT WAS HATCHED IN LONDON

LONDON, June 1.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra today received cablegrams of a reassuring character from Madrid in response to their messages to King Alfonso and Queen Victoria expressing sympathy and thankfulness at their providential escape.

The Spanish embassy here is receiving very many messages of condolence and crowds of callers, including many diplomats and officials. Among the earlier arrivals was Manuel Garcia, the famous Spanish professor of singing, now over a hundred years old.

The officials of the Spanish embassy are receiving reports that the plot against the lives of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria was hatched by anarchists in London.

The Spanish charge d'affaires, Count do Pradere, says there seems little doubt that the plot was concocted in London, but the officials have not yet been able to ascertain if an Italian who is suspected of executing it actually went hence to Madrid. A dispatch from Madrid says that an Englishman named Robert is detained there on suspicion of being an accomplice of the men who threw the bomb.

SENT TO PRISON.

Ann O'Toole, charged with drunkenness and vulgar language, pleaded guilty to the first charge this morning in Department 1 of the Police Court, but declared that she could not remember whether or not she had used vulgar language when arrested. Judge Smith sentenced her to three days' imprisonment on the drunk charge, and continued the second charge for one week in order to give Ann a chance to make up her mind whether she was guilty or not guilty.

HOUSING HOMELESS WORKMEN

General Greely Outlines Plan at Request of Mayor Schmitz.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—In response to the r request of Mayo Schmitz General Greeley has outlined the following plan for housing the homeless and the workingmen who will rebuild this city:

"1. While there probably will be large reductions in the number of houses required during the coming year owing to removals from the city and from doubling up, which always follows reductions in incomes and limited accommodations, yet I believe that the housing accommodations must provide for about 75,000.

"2. It is believed that it would be in the best interests of the working people and those of small incomes if there should be constructed a large number of small houses by building associations or under the direct auspices of the Red Cross. Such houses should be of several diferent types and sizes to avoid that extreme uniformity and ugliness which is often noted in the houses of people of very limited means. By providing also all different sizes the benefit resulting would be greatly increased as families of widely varying incomes could avail themselves of the accruing advantages.

"It is natural to say that the rent for such buildings should be as low as possible consistent with the return of a fair amount of interest, say 4 per cent annually on the capital invested.

"I believe that there will be considerable difficulty in purchasing at moderate prices sites for such houses, particularly with reference to their convenient nearness to street railways, a matter of special importance to workmen. It is not assumed that more than 35,000 people can be thus cared for within the next six months.

"3. It is believed that there should be erected on ground blonging to the city barracks for the accommodation of, say 40,000 people. These buildings should be the plainest possible in construction, consistent with their being watertight, sanitary and convenient. Each house should provide for four or eight families with three rooms for each family.

"The latrines and possibly small common cooking houses should be provided for each set of quarters. The locations should be on the city parks and at points where water is convenient and complete sanitation possible and where the people occupying the houses shall have convenient access to the street railways. As soon as data is obtained, definite reports can be made on the cost of such houses and as to their definite location. This data is now being compiled.

"Including Jefferson square and Lafayette square, taken by the army, there are over 15,000 persons in camps under military supervision. There are about 15,000 San Franciscans Oakland and Sausalito districts, which, with those living in scattered camps, basements, stables and outhouses will easily make 40,000 for whom these semi-permanent barracks should be provided."

HOUSE CARRIED OUT ORDERS OF DEAD MAN

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Following the reading of the Adams letter Mr. Morrell presented a resolution directing the Sergeant-at-Arms to make the necessary arrangements for the funeral to be paid out of the contingent fund of the House, and then as a further mark of respect, the House adjourned.

In view of the request contained in the letter written to the Speaker by Mr. Adams no congressional committee will accompany his body to Philadelphia. An officer of the House will go, however, and it is understood that informally several members of the House will also act as an escort.

The body has been placed in the hands of an undertaker under orders from the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House and prepared for burial. It will not be taken to Philadelphia until tomorrow.

In the absence of Chairman Hitt, of Illinois, Mr. Adams had been acting chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs during the greater part of the special session. He took this position by reason of being the ranking Republican member of the committee. His removal places Representative Cousins of Iowa, in the position occupied by Mr. Adams, and he will undoubtedly assume charge of the committee during the remainder of Congress.

ROBBED DURING A PANIC

San Francisco Police Arrest the Accused Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—John Lambke, a passenger on the steamer Santa Barbara, which broke down while coming into port, is minus $150 as a result of the accident, and A. L. Croton, a fellow passenger, is under arrest on suspicion of having taken the money.

The panic which followed the break down caused those on board to forget to take the ordinary precaution of protecting their belongings.

The arrested man is alleged to have taken possession of Lambke's money during the excitement. He denies that he stole the money. When searched the police found $115 on Croton.

ENORMUUS DRINK BILL

GERMANS HAVE A RECORD AS HEAVY DRINKERS.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Consul Brittain supplies from Kehl the figures concerning the amount of liquor consumed in Germany during the five years, 1900-1904, inclusive. According to published statistics each inhabitant consumed yearly 6½ quarts of wine, 129½ quarts of beer and 9 quarts of brandy. The per capita cost was $11.20, including children and women. The average for male citizens over 15 eyars would be $87.36. For a population of 60,000,000 persons the liquor expenditure figures out at $672,588,000.

Consul-General Guenther, writing from Frankfort, supplements this report by contrasting these figures with other German expenses. For public schools the empire spent, in 1904, the sum of $99,722,000; for working people's insurance, $101,244,000, and for the army and navy, $203,847,000. All these grea tpublic enterprises cost the German nation less than two-thirds of their alcoholic drink bill.

VOL. LXV. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 1, 1906. NO. 93

COUNCIL CONDEMNS TRACTION COMPANY

Franchises Are to Be Forfeited if the Law Has Been Violated == Councilmen Are to Make an Investigation of the Streetcar Service at Once.

Complaints from all parts of this city against the service rendered by the Oakland Traction Consolidated on various lines of its system were voiced last night by members of the city council at the meeting of the street railway committee of the council, when the resolutions introduced by Councilmen Fitzgerald and Aitken, declaring the franchises of the corporation, on Sixteenth street, and in East Oakland, forfeited because of the failure of the traction company to live up to the terms of its franchises.

After a long discussion of the proposed ordinances, during which the methods of the company in the operation of the various branches of its system were severerly scored by several members of the committee, the matter was laid over until the next meeting of the committee.

SUPERINTENDENT CITED.

On motion of Councilman Burns, the committee ordered that Superintendent Potter of the Oakland Traction Consolidated be cited to appear before the street railway committee at its next meeting, and show cause why the franchises of the company should not be declared forfeited because of the noncompliance of the corporation with the terms of its agreement with the city when the franchises were granted.

Attorney Edward W Engs appeared before the committee last night as the representative of the Oakland Traction Consolidated, and he was requested by the members of the committee to inform Superintendent Potter of the complaints made last night against the methods of the company in the operation of some of its lines, so the superintendent might be prepared to answer any questions asked by the members of the committee at its next meeting.

TO TAKE ACTION.

After the reading of the resolution introduced by Councilman Fitzgerald, the latter, in explanation of his action, said:

"Some action should certainly be taken by this committee and by the city council, to compel the company to maintain decent service on the Sixteenth street line, which it is certainly not doing at the present time. The company is not, and for some time past has not been, living up to the terms of its franchise on this line. The franchise calls for cars to be run every ten minutes on this line, but I can vouch for the fact that they are not run every ten minutes, or for that matter every twenty minutes.

FITZGERALD WALKS.

"I myself have become so tired of waiting for a car on the Sixteenth street line that I have formed the habit of walking up town, rather than stand, as I have in the last few months been compelled to do, for twenty to thirty-five minutes, waiting for a car. I believe that this council has the right, and should force the Oakland Traction Company to live up to the terms of its franchises, or else declare these franchises forfeited."

THURSTON TALKS.

Councilman Thurston warmly seconded the argument of Fitzgerald He said.

"I believe that the bad service rendered by the Oakland Traction Consolidated is due in a great measure to faulty operation Especially on Telegraph avenue does this seem to be true, for I have often seen people stand for more than a quarter of an hour waiting for a car, and then seen half a dozen cars pass scarcely a minute apart. It stands to reason that if cars are supposed to be run under ten minute headway, and two pass within a minute of each other, that there will not, if the next car is on schedule time, be another car over the line for twenty minutes. I think that the method of operating the cars can certainly be improved upon, and I am heartily in favor of any action which will compel the company to render better service to the public."

KEY ROUTE TRAINS.

Councilman Burns voiced the protest of residents of the First ward against the disregard for the safety of the public shown by the speed at which the late trains of the Key Route Railroad are run. He said

"Only last night there was a bad smashup at Fortieth and Grove streets, in which a horse was badly injured, and a wagon load of furniture destroyed. The wagon had become stuck on the track, and the driver, hearing the approaching train, ran a hundred yards up the track and tried to flag the train. He waved his handkerchief, standing in the center of the track, in the full glare of the headlight of the train, but the tram failed to stop, and his horse was badly hurt and the wagon and load of furniture smashed to splinters.

LONG DELAY.

"On the other hand, there is a man living on Fifty-third street, between Grove and Adeline streets, who told me a few days ago that because of the slow service furnished by the Oakland Traction Company, it took him just two hours to go home from the business center of the town to his lunch and to return to his place of business. He said that he had consumed twenty minutes of the time in eating his dinner, and that the rest of the time had been spent on the cars. Such service is not the best that any street railroad company can afford, by any means."

TRIES TO MAKE EXCUSE.

Attorney Engs, in behalf of the Oakland Traction Consolidated, attempted to excuse the bad service of the corporation by declaring that owing to the large increase in the population of Oakland since the earthquake and fire in San Francisco the company was handicapped by lack of cars but Councilman Burns replied that complaints against the service rendered by the company had been made to him long before the earthquake.

FITZGERALD TO ACT.

Councilman Fitzgerald then declared that he would begin an investigation of the method of operating the cars on the Sixteenth street line, and that if he found that the Traction Company was not complying with the terms of its franchise he would introduce an ordinance declaring the franchise forfeited. He said:

"There is an easy method of finding out whether or not the company is running its cars on the schedule demanded by the terms of its franchise, and I propose to find out whether or not it is doing so. I shall time the cars as they are run on this branch of the system, and if I find that they are not run on schedule time, and can prove it, I shall introduce an ordinance declaring the franchise of the company forfeited.

"There is another matter which I wish to bring before this committee, and that is the manner in which the company operates its cars at the Sixteenth street depot The cars do not run to within a block of the depot and I have noticed time and time again that just as an incoming train pulls into the depot, a car, with not more than two or three people on board, leaves the terminus, regardless of passengers on the train who may be in a hurry to come up town."

AITKEN'S STAND.

Councilman Aitken took part in the discussion by declaring that until the residents of East Oakland had made a stubborn fight, the service of the company in that section of the city had been the worst of any in Oakland. Councilman Aitken said:

"For a long time the service rendered by this company in East Oakland, and also in Fruitvale and San Leandro, was such as to provoke continual protests from the residents of these localities. The company promised repeatedly to improve the service, and finally began on Twelfth street, but after carrying the work across the Twelfth street dam, stopped all further improvement. We, as the members of this committee know, had a great deal of trouble over the Fourteenth street line, and at last forced the company to give us what we wanted.

PROPERTY RIGHTS.

"It has been my experience, and you will find it true in all parts of Oakland, that wherever this company has large property interests, such as in Piedmont and other parts of the city, the service is of the best possible character, but it is the policy of the company to ignore all other localities, as far as good service is concerned.

"They care nothing for the rights of the public, so long as they get the public money. For instance, look at the condition of the East Oakland and Alameda cars. I do not believe that these cars have ever been painted since they were put on the road, and they are in such shape as to make a woman who has on a nice dress hesitate about taking a seat in one of them. In fact, they are the d——st cars that I ever saw used on any line, in any city which I have ever visited.

DECENT SERVICE.

"The Oakland Traction Consolidated should be compelled to render at least decent service to the people of this city, and I am certainly with Mr. Fizgerald in his determination to force them either to live up to the terms of their agreement or else to forfeit their franchise."

After some further discussion, during which other members of the Council and committee criticised the actions of the company in the past, the matter was, on motion of Councilman Burns, laid over until the next meeting of the committee, and the clerk was requested to cite Superintendent Potter to appear before the committee and show cause why the Council should not adopt an ordinance declaring the franchises of the company, where they have failed to observe the terms of their agreement with the city, forfeited.

FLOOD IS FEARED AT DAWSON CITY

TACOMA, Wash., June 1.—The Yukon and Klondike rivers at Dawson are higher than ever before except during the spring of 1890. As it is impossible to reach Hunker or Bonanza creek points from Dawson with teams, al stages have been abandoned.

Orr & Tukey's stage, with nineteen passengers and $40,000 in gold, got into deep water at the Cliff House, but was saved by the horses, which swam out with the rig.

O'Brien's stage was wrecked at the same place. One horse was drowned and the stage lost, but the passengers were rescued in small boats.

Water covers the Klondike flats for miles. Some of the Dawson floors and White Horse wharves are under water. Two feet more will cover all the wharves and principal streets in Dawson.

The first steamer from Dawson for White Horse left on May 26th with twenty passengers. The first steamer from Fairbanks was due in Dawson on Wednesday. The steamer Monarch sailed from Dawson for Fairbanks on Monday afternoon with freight and thirty passengers.

PETE LOHMAN, BALLPLAYER, HAS BECOME INSANE

Removed to Los Angeles County Hospital.

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Pete Lohman, the old-time catcher, manager and captain of the Oakland ball team and one of the best known ball players on the coast, was taken from his home at Ocean Park, near here, last night and removed to the county hospital, having become insane.

Pete has been losing his mind gradually for many months, but was sane enough except when he heard baseball talked about or saw an old-time player or fan, at which time he became very much excited. He will probably be examined for insanity and sent to a private sanatorium. It is said that he has saved considerable money. His family is well known in this city, where the plumbing firm of Lohman Brothers does a big business

The announcement of the impairment of the mental faculties of "Pete" Lohman was not unexpected in this city, where the poor fellow for years was well known and highly respected.

Long before he ceased active connection with the Oakland baseball club it was self-evident that "Pete" was far from being himself.

His retirement from the captaincy and management of the team was due to physical decadence.

This weighed heavily on his mind. He had been so long on the diamond and every nerve was so attuned to the excitement of the game, the cheering multitude and the clash of contention over disputed points that he could not remain quietly by, bereft of authority and even denied the pleasure of in any way mingling in the excitement or the strife

He was given an easy berth in the employ of the club although the position was tendered with the kindliest feeling on the part of the management, it was apparent that "Pete" felt keenly mortified in accepting it. Gradually his manner became listless and when spoken to it was only with a mental effort that he was able to divine the meaning of the speaker.

"Pete" was slowly, surely passing toward the region of mental darkness and the knowledge of the fact created profound sorrow among many admirers.

There was no more earnest, hard-working, capable and honest captain of baseball in his time. "Pete" was married and has one child.

FOR PROTECTION OF THE PEOPLE

COUNCILMAN BURNS PROPOSES TO HAVE FLAGMEN STATIONTIONED AT CROSSINGS.

Councilman Burns last night presented a resolution to the ordinance and judiciary committee of the city council providing that flagmen be ordered stationed at all points where a railroad, either steam or electric, crossed the lines of a street railway, within the limits of the city of Oakland. The object of this resolution, as explained by Councilman Burns, was to prevent conductors on street cars being compelled to leave their cars at certain points, and go ahead to flag the car over the crossings.

In presenting his resolution, Councilman Burns declared that he had repeatedly seen women thrown down by the unexpected starting of the cars at points where the conductor had gone ahead to flag the car, owing to the fact that the motorman had been unable to see that they were in the act of alighting from the car, and had obeyed the signal of the conductor to come ahead.

He said that particularly at the corners of Grove street, San Pablo and Telegraph avenues and Twenty-second street, on the new Twenty-second street line of the Key Route, were flagmen necessary, owing to the fact that the Key Route trains were run on this line every 20 minutes necessitating that the conductor of every other car on the San Pablo avenue, Grove street, and Telegraph avenue lines leave the car to act as a flagman thus endangering the lives of passengers who might wish to leave or board the cars at these points.

Councilman Elliot suggested that the matter could be better reached by an ordinance prohibiting the starting of any car while the conductor was off the car. The matter was finally laid over until Councilman Burns could secure the services of the city attorney to draw up an ordinance that would cover the question at issue in the best manner for the [illegible] public.

AGREE ON A SMOOT VERDICT

Committee Is Ready to Make Its Report to the Senate.

SALT LAKE VITY (Utah), June 1.—The news from Washington that the Senate committee on privileges and elections had come to a decision as to the status of Senator Smoot aroused the greatest interest in this city, where the fight against and in behalf of the Apostle Senator has been most bitterly waged by anti-Mormon and Mormon politicians.

Governor John C. Cutler declined discuss the finding of the committee. "It is too early to discuss the matter in any of its phases," he said. "I shall take it up in due course of time if necessary."

There has been little discussion of a successor to Senator Smoot should the Senate affirm the findings of the majority of the committee. The state legislature will meet next January and it is commonly understood that [illegible] a vacancy [illegible]

TAKING CARE OF THE POOR

MAYOR SCHMITZ WANTS ADVICE FROM GENERAL GREELY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—As the time is approaching when the caring for the people left destitute by the recent calamity will fall upon the city Mayor Schmitz has addressed the following communication to Major General Greely asking for his views as to the best way of handling this task when it becomes the city's duty The letter is as follows:

"Major General Greely, commanding Pacific Division United States army—As the time is approaching when the municipal authorities must necessarily take charge of the housing and maintenance of our poor people who have been left destitute by the calamity of April 18, 1906, and realizing the great and efficient work in this regard which has been done by the United States troops under your able command, I beg to ask that you give me your views as to the best way of providing for our unfortunate people after those under your command have relinquished control thereof. I wish to have the work carried on in the same able manner in which it had been done during the past six weeks, but believe that as far as possible our citizens should be made independent instead of dependent. I would therefore greatly appreciate it if you would, at your early convenience, give me this information.

A VASSAR GIRL PLAYS ROMEO.

'Romeo and Juliet" was played by Vassar students Saturday on an improvised stage at the summit of Sunset Hill Japanese lanterns gave the only light off the stage.

The play was given as it was supposed to have been acted in the days of Shakespeare. Costumes and stage settings were true to his period.

Miss Inez Milholland, '09, of London, was Romeo, and Miss Emily Ford, '06, of Lockport, N. Y., Juliet. They offered an effective combination. Miss Milholland is a handsome girl, and made an ideal Romeo. Miss Ford has long been classed as a star in college dramatic circles, and her acting evoked enthusiasm.—New York Times

A TRIBUTE TO BARRIE.

In Nineteen Hundred's latter days,
When winsome Babbie met our gaze,
Her author heard the cry of praise—
"More, Barrie, more'"

So Admirable Crichton came
And (though we mispronounced his name)
We tipped that butler well with fame
"More, Barrie, more'"

Though little Mary was a pill
That none could swallow, well or ill,
We said to the compounder still—
"More, Barrie, more'"

Whereat—(describe it if you can!)
Bewitching, birdlike Peter Pan,
An airy, fairy, flight began:
"More, Barrie, more'"

What next? We wondered much, but soon
From Pan we passed to Pantaloon,
As quaint but quite another tune.
"More, Barrie, more'"

Ah, here's the land of Heart's desire!
We sit with Alice by her fire,
And like a flame the call mounts higher—
"More, Barrie, more'"
"More, Barrymore'"

CHILDREN HUNT MOTH EGGS.

A Buffalo Society Enlists Their Aid in Exterminating a Threatened Pest.

There will be twenty million less caterpillars in Buaffo this summer, due to the crusade which the school children have conducted day after day for a month against the tussock moth's egg masses The estimate may not be exact. If not, it is more apto to be too small than too large. By next week the obituary of the tussock moth will have been written, and the caterpillars that were to have feasted upon the green leaves of Buffalo's countless trees and performed acrobatic feats on the ends of miniature ropes spun from tree limbs will never share in the joys of this world.

The crusade was instituted in the closing days of April, and with the appearance of foliage it will have to be discontinued. That, according to C. M. Millard, superintendent of grammar grades in the public schools, who has acted as chief of the startegy board for the army of children, will probably be next week. The cause of the crusade was ajustly founded fear on the part of the Society for Beautifying Buffalo, that caterpillars were to exist in such numbers there this summer as to constitute a plague. The presence of an extraordinary number of the fuzzy worms last summer indicated that the tussock egg market would be overstocked this spring. Sure enough, when spring came egg masses of the tussock moth were found in the trees in startling quantities.

Sparrows will not eat the caterpillar or the tussock moth's eggs, from which the caterpillar comes, and, what is worse, they chase away all birds which feed upon the caterpillars. Consequently the Society for Beautifying Buffalo devised the plan of enlisting the services of school children in ridding the trees of eggs, and offered prizes of $30 in pictures for the school securing the greatest number of egg masses, and of $10 for the room in every school which acquired the greatest number.—New York World.

LIVELY RUNAWAY IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, June 1.—E. B. Bond, who owns a fruit store at 2120 Vine street, North Berkeley, narrowly escaped being trampled to death by a horse at 10:30 this morning. The horse was hitched to a post in front of the store, when it became frightened at a passing automobile Bond, the owner of the horse, was standing in front of the animal and jumped just in time to dodge the hoof of the horse as it dashed down the street. It ran down Shattuck avenue, and then turned into Bancroft way. At the latter street, the wagon ran into a telegraph pole, and was completely demolished. The horse ran down Telegraph avenue, and was not stopped until the Thirtieth street station was reached.

A curious paradox is offered by the attempt of foreign residents in Bangkok to introduce European wearing apparel at the Siamese court. The coast Malay adopts the tall hat, frock coat and checked waistcoat as a matter of decoration and distinction. Not so the Siamese ladies and gentlemen of the extensive royal household. They do not employ European garments merely as badges of ceremony; on the contrary, they make them conform to local fashions in general. What is more natural, therefore, than that the king's youngest sister, the Princess Royal Sawang Rambol, who, according to the customs of the country will never marry through fear of possible rivals to the throne—should find pleasure in arraying herself in breeches and hose, which bear a certain resemblance to the native costume worn by her mother?

A general arbitration treaty for the acceptance of all nations.

A plan for the restriction of armaments and, if possible, for their reduction by concurrent international action.

The conference voted to continue the college special committee for another year.

The platform presented to the conference by Dr. Gilman, seconded by Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court and St. Clair McKelway, was unanimously adopted.

PLAN TO DISMISS POLICE OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—At the next meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners there will be action taken on the matter of dismissing several police officers from the force on the ground of economy. The loping off of practically $150,000 will have the effect of enforcing economy in all police matters and many men now wearing stars will either be retired or dismissed for cause.

Among those who will receive consideration at the hands of the commissioners are Sergeant Stephen Brunner, Corporal John Parrot, Sergeant Ward, Corporal Lyons, Patrolmen E E. Dalton, Jerome Hickey, John Dougherty, James Fay, John McGreevey, C Edwards, T. R. Egan and William T Hooper.

There are serious charges pending against Policeman T. Ingraham and James Martine.

HANGED FOR MURDER OF A SMALL BOY

HONOLULU, June 1.—Frank Johnson was hanged yesterday for murder. He confessed his crime, and said his real name was John O'Connell, and that he had relatives in Ireland. The plea of insanity was ineffectively raised at the trial.

Johnson's crime was the murder of the seven-year-old son of Henry Wharton on January 2d. He literally cut the body to bits with a penknife, severing the various joints and finally burying the body in pieces. Afterwards he assisted the mother in a search for the child, when the latter's disappearance was noted. The motive of the crime is supposed to have been to conceal an unnatural assault. At the trial, which lasted four weeks, insanity was claimed, and some expert medical evidence was given indicating that the defendant was an imbecile The jury, however, found a verdict of guilty in two minutes. Johnson was a small man, weighing about 100 pounds, and could not read nor write nor count beyond about twenty. He was 45 years of age

MRS. MUMFORD TO WED BROKER

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE APPROACHING MARRIAGE OF THE AUTHOR.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Mrs. Ethel Watts Mumford, the author, playwright and artist, to a Wall street broker. Mrs. Mumford secured a decree of divorce from her first husband, George D. Mumford of New York city, on the ground of desertion, but it was alleged at the time that the cause of the estrangement was the husband's jealousy of her devotion to literature and art. When the separation came, after many quarrels over her literary career, the wife moved to San Francisco in 1899, and in 1901 she received a divorce, with the custody of her child.

It was while she was in California that she brought out her novel, "Dupes," a three-act play called "The Scenario," and many short stories and poems. She was also one of the collaborators on "Cynics Calendar," published in San Francisco, and a novel styled "Whitewash."

JOHN D. IS ON HIGH SEA

OIL MAGNATE HAS LEFT FOR A TRIP TO EUROPE.

NEW YORK, June 1.—John D. Rockefeller sailed for Europe yesterday, and his going was marked by several unusual things which he did. One was to pose for newspaper photographers. He talked freely to reporters, giving them a lot of advice, and he also told his confidential representative in the oil business to cheer up. Wearing his golf cap, Rockefeller created great surprise by mixing generally with everybody on board the boat, getting acquainted and shaking hands at every opportunity. He wore a new wig and an old suit of clothes. Because he is followed by three reporters who are ordered to keep close to him all the time he is absent. Mr. Rockefeller abandoned his modest suit and engaged the suite de luxe at $1150 for the trip. His meals will be served in his own apartments. One of the reporters who arrived too late to get a picture pleaded with the magnate for a special pose.

"I like perseverance," said Rockefeller, "and in recognition of it I will send you up to my daughter's house with my valet, who will tell her to give you one of my best photographs."

Just before the gangplank was removed Joseph Seep came aboard with a worried look on his face. Seep is a representative of the Rockefeller interests in the oil fields. He apparently had a message of great import, for he looked worried when repeating it to the magnate. Rockefeller studied over it for some time. Then his face cleared and he slapped Seep on the shoulder and said: "Don't mind that; take everything quietly this summer. I hope everything will go well; I think it will. Have a good time, be cheerful and don't worry." Seep tried to look cheerful, but the effort was not a success.

One unusual feature of the present trip of the oil magnate is the fact that no private relatives accompany him. Apparently he has adopted a new system and, instead of aloofness, will seek the companionship of his fellow-passengers. He said his journey was entirely informal; that it had no significance, being merely a trip to visit his daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Strong, who is ill in Paris.

DESPERATE RACE ON THE HUDSON.

NEW YORK, June 1.—While the rain was falling in torrents Monday afternoon there was a desperate race in the Hudson river made by a steam launch from the battleship Maine, the flagship of the North Atlantic fleet, and another from her sister ship, the Missouri, for the life of Arthur Reed of Colorado, a seaman of Admiral Evans' flagship. Reese disappeared beneath the waves when the launch from the Maine was within twenty feet of him. Details of the attempted rescue was made public yesterday.

Unnoticed Reese fell from the Jacob's ladder while going aboard. When first seen he was struggling in the water about eighty yards from the ship. Midshipman Drake, the officer of the deck, saw the seaman in the water and shouted to the coxswain and for the men in the launch to cast off and go to the rescue.

Reese was an expert swimmer, but the tide was running at least three miles an hour and he was carried rapidly down stream. The launch from the Maine had on every pound of steam. Her coxswain shouted to Reese to keep up his courage as the rescue was only a question of time. The swiftly ebbing tide made it possible for the launch to gain very fast on the seaman, who was being swept toward the anchorage of the Missouri.

Reese was sixty yards south of the Maine and the launch was going at full speed about fifty yards astern, when a launch from the Missouri, which was coming from the shore, sighted the racing craft. The coxswain immediately turned his boat upstream where Reese, now almost exhausted, was struggling to keep above water.

The little engine on the Missouri's launch puffed with a will, but it was a hard job to buck the tide and she could make little headway. The launch from the Maine, assisted by the ebbing tide, fairly skimmed over the waves and had almost reached Reese. The coxswain was leaning far overboard with boathook in hand, when suddenly, just as the men who lined the decks of the Maine and the Missouri were getting ready to cheer, the young seaman sank. He was not seen again.

"We did everything we could to save him," said Captain Niles, "but luck, in the shape of an unusually strong tide and the heavy rain, were against us."

FAREWELL TO A BAND LEADER

Lieutenant E. G. Williams of the League of the Cross Cadets Band was a passenger on the steamer Sonoma which sailed for the antipodes from San Francisco yesterday. The members of his band turned out at the dock and gave him a fine send off. After the band had discoursed several selections, Lieutenant Williams rendered as a cornet solo, "Then You'll Remember Me," and was heartily encored by an immense throng. A very pleasing incident was the presentation by the band boys to Mr. Williams of a handsome meerschaum pipe. Sergeant Blanchard, in a neat speech, recalled the wonderful progress of the band under the leadership of Lieutenant Williams. In response, Mr. Williams thanked the band boys and the bands' friends in general and promised to return in the course of three or four months and help in the upbuilding of New San Francisco. While in Australia he will write a series of articles on music in his native country for the "Musical Enterprise," one of the leading journals.

CLOSING OF SCHOOLS.

The management of the institution for the deaf and the blind at Berkeley desires to announce to parents and friends of the pupils that school will close at the usual time, namely, the second Wednesday in June. The commencement exercises will be held the day before. Will parents kindly communicate at once with the principal, giving instructions as to how they wish children to be sent home? All pupils are expected to leave for home on Wednesday, the 13th. Notice in regard to the commencement exercises will be given later.

On Friday night, June 8, at 8 o'clock, the blind pupils of the school will give the annual closing concert. The 7 o'clock Key Route boat from San Francisco will bring friends to the assembly hall in time for the opening number of the program. No cards of invitation are to be issued, but all friends of pupils and of the school are invited to attend.

FOLLOWS GIRL FOR CURIOSITY

EXCUSE GIVEN BY CYRUS WARD WHEN ARRESTED FOR PURSUING HER.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Cyrus Ward of Redlands, Cal., was held in $300 bail in the Brooklyn police court yesterday on the technical charge of vagrancy. He will have an examination June 4th. Ward's real offense is following Mabel Lum, an art student, across the continent from Redlands to Brooklyn and annoying her by writing her letters and following her about. It is understood he has been arrested before in California for a similar offense.

Ward is a school teacher, 34 years old. Miss Lum is studying art at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, and Ward was arrested while in the library of that institution. The girl is said to be attractive and was sent to Brooklyn by her parents, well-to-do people of Redlands, largely to escape Ward's attentions. But Ward pursued her, and the last two weeks has been in Brooklyn trying to pay her his addresses.

In court Ward said his love for Miss Lum had been turned to hate. When the magistrate asked him why, in that case, he had followed the girl, the prisoner replied: "Simply curiosity; that is all. You see, her folks in California were so mean I wanted to see what kind of folks she had here."

Miss Lum, who shrinks from notoriety, did not appear in court.

SAN FRANCISCANS LOCATE IN EAST

NEW YORK, June 1.—The World today says:

According to officials of the railroads centering in New York, there are enough former residents of San Francisco in town now to establish a big branch of the order of Native Sons of the Golden West. The estimates of the number of Californians who have come to New York to live during the last four weeks range from 25,000 to 60,000.

The freight officials of the railways report that miles and miles of freight cars loaded with the household goods of these persons are crawling eastward between Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

Agents of flat properties, particularly on the upper west side of town and in Brooklyn, report a greater demand for suitable apartments than ever before at this time of year. They say the demand comes from former San Franciscans.

The majority of the Californians are of the more prosperous classes who have determined to live hereafter in the Eastern metropolis. Most of them are equipped with sufficient means to carry them along for several months. The relief organizations say they have not received any applications for help from any persons coming to have come here recently from San Francisco.

Some of the large merchants say, however, that they have been applied to for work by a great many men who gave up San Francisco homes.

MEDICAL COLLEGE GRADUATING EXERCISES

The Oakland College of Medicine and Surgery will graduate its first class this evening, at 8 o'clock, at the college building, Thirty-first and Grove streets. The graduates are: Marc Abrams, Charles Saxon Arnold, John Louis Lohse and George Tompkins Pomeroy. The speakers will be Mayor Frank K. Mott, Rev. Charles R. Brown and the president of the college, Dr. Frank L. Adams, who will confer the degrees.

PIEDMONT RINK.

Probably never have their been more champions, real or alleged, in one night than there were at the Piedmont Skating rink last night.

The event was the semi-final of the big handicap contest that has been going on all this week and the final of which is to be decided tonight. Chief interest centered in the fact that Harley Davidson, who claims to have won the world's championship from the holder thereof a few months ago and who has the press notices to show for it, and Joe Waldstein, who has for lo, these many moons, been disputing Davidson's right to the title, claiming to have defeated the bona fide champion about ten years ago, were entered in the contest, after repeated attempts to bring them together to settle their claims.

By the result settled nothing as to their relative ability, for Waldstein lost his skate and did not finish, while Davidson was beaten by two other entrants, one of these a mere boy. It was hinted, however, that Davidson was merely holding himself back for a grand splurge tonight, since it seemed mere child's play for him to beat all who opposed him when he raced here before.

The winner of the contest turned up in Norman Manning, who had three-fourths of a lap handicap, but who finished just that far ahead of his nearest competitor, James Kennedy, while Davidson could do no better than third. At any rate, he did not do any better than that. He slowed up toward the close, though whether purposely or perforce would be hard to say. He certainly seemed to try his best for the first few laps, anyway.

Tonight there will be five contestants in the final, as follows: Norman Manning of Oakland; George Peterson, Pacific coast champion, and who finished fourth last night; Harley Davidson, world's champion; Arthur Waldstein, Northwest champion and winner of the six-day race at Portland, who finished fifth last evening, and Everett Sharp, who has won many a race in San Francisco, but who has neglected to obtain one of the championships that seem to be so plentiful.

Tomorrow (Saturday) night is to be Ladies' Night.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at Osgood Bros., Broadway, corner 7th, and Washington, corner 12th. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

NEW PLANS OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC

NEGOTIATIONS NOW UNDER WAY FOR LONG TERM OF RENTAL.

E. H. Harrriman has reconsidered his intention to erect a modern office building in San Francisco for housing the general offices of the Southern Pacific. The information was given out yesterday that the company will probably take a long-term lease on the James Flood building for the accommodation of the various departments that were burned out of the Merchants' Exchange building, as well as its city ticket office, which was located at 613 Market street, under the Grand hotel. Negotiations for the lease of the entire building, including the ground floor space heretofore occupied as stores, have been in progress between the executive officials of the company and James L. Flood for some days past.

The proposition is said to have originated with Mr. Flood, who was desirous of finding a tenant for the entire building before completing plans for the restoration of the structure. At any rate, Flood gave the Southern Pacific a price on the building and the terms of the proposed lease are said to be sufficiently alluring to warrant the belief that the deal will be closed. Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager, quietly slipped out for the East a few days ago to talk over the matter with Traffic Director J. C. Stubbs, who will have considerable to say about the question of housing the traffic departments.

As an indication that the Southern Pacific will take the James Flood building, ground floor and all, the company has made propositions to the general agents of various transcontinental and Eastern lines to sublet space on the ground floor of the building for their freight and passenger offices. In other words, the Southern Pacific is planning to move railroad row from the Palace Hotel up to Market and Powell streets. One weighty argument that the Southern Pacific has handed out to the transcontinental and Eastern agents in asking them to take over the ground floor stores of the building is that the Southern Pacific's city ticket office will be located in the building. Where the city ticket office of the Southern Pacific is, the ticket offices of the other roads want to be. The Southern Pacific officials thus feel confident that reasonable offers of ground floor space to the various transcontinental and Eastern lines that maintain street offices in San Francisco will be jumped at with avidity.

As matters stand, the general agents of the Eastern roads feel very much at sea. For some days they have been considering a proposition to erect a temporary building in front of the ferry building. Now they are told that they can move into quarters in the Flood building within two or three months.

Should the Southern Pacific take the James Flood building, as seems likely, it goes without saying that many of the local railroad agencies will become sub-tenants of the Harriman corporation. At the same time, however, there is considerable assurance that some of the freight and passenger offices will locate permanently in the neighborhood of their former offices. The general offices of the Santa Fe will go back to the Monadnock building within two or three months, and other offices have already secured or spoken for space in the same building, which gives rise to the impression that railroad row of San Francisco will be spread over a wider territory than formerly.

SETTLEMENT OF INSURANCE LOSS

POSITION OF UNDERWRITERS IS SET FORTH AT THIS MEETING.

NEW YORK, June 1.—An important meeting of American insurance companies was held here yesterday when resolutions setting forth the position of the underwriters represented as regards the adjustment of liabilities in the San Francisco conflagration were unanimously adopted. The rulings adopted affect, it is claimed, not less than 75 per cent of the insurance carried by American corporations and explicitly deny liability for purely earthquake losses.

After pointing out the complex and intricate nature of the problems presented for solution and stating that it is highly desirable that all losses for which the companies are legally liable should be promptly and fairly settled, the resolutions continue:

"Whereas, It is expedient that a statement as to the legal and moral liability of companies in regard to claims arising from the catastrophe at San Francisco should be made, the subjoined is adopted as a fair statement of such liability, suitable to be used as the basis for adjusting losses:

"First—That where policies covered buildings (and, or, their contents), which had certainly fallen before the fire or which had been so damaged as to void the insurance under the express terms of the contract, claims under such policies should not be paid.

"Second—Where policies covered buildings, (and, or, their contents), which may have been damaged or destroyed by the authorities, civil and military, subsequent to the conflagration, claims under such policies should not be paid until the facts have been definitely ascertained.

"Third—(a) Where policies covered buildings, (and, or, their contents), which were probably, but not certainly, so damaged by earthquake as to be brought within the provisions of the fallen buildings clause, or (b) where policies covered buildings (and, or, their contents) which had been damaged or destroyed by the authorities, civil and, or, military before fire had reached them, and (d) where policies covered property whose owners, by reason of the destruction of their books and records, are unable to supply the proofs required by the conditions of their insurance policies. In all such cases claims should be settled by a reasonable compromise.

"Fourth—Where policies covered contents of buildings which are certainly not affected by the exemption conditions of the policy, claims under such policies should be paid as soon as adjusted, subject to such deduction, if any, as may fairly be made on account of the salvage resulting from the removal of portable property from buildings before fire had reached them."

The following is a nearly complete list of those present and the fire insurance companies they represented.

President—George P. Sheldon of Phoenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn, acting as chairman, E. H. A. Corea, vice-president Home, R. M. Bissell, vice-president Hartford Fire; W. N. Kremer, president German-American; A. H. Wray, president of the Commercial Union of New York, E. R. Irving, president Fire Association of Philadelphia; J. B. Branch, president Providence, Washington, J. J. Kenney of the British American; George B. Edwards, vice-president Queen, Marshall S. Driggs, president, and E. K. Douglas, general agent Williamsburg City; W. H. Stephens, president of the Agricultural, George O. Howe, vice-president Niagara Fire; Joseph McCord, vice-president Hanover Fire; Theodore H. Prince, president Eagle Fire, P. L. Hoadley, vice-president American of Newark, K. M. Gratz, vice-president Girard Fire and Marine of Philadelphia.

Henry Evans, president of the Continental, left before the meeting came to order and said later that the company was not bound by any action taken. Several companies which attended a previous conference held Tuesday were not at yesterday's session. The resolutions were telegraphed to the adjustment committee at San Francisco last night and also cabled to London for the information of the British companies.

SCALING CLAIMS AGAINST RELIEF

LIQUOR DEALERS WANT PAY FOR STOCK DESTROYED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—With 8000 claims, calling for a total of over $2,000,000, the finance committee of the relief fund is busy scaling and pruning. One firm which deals in hardware wanted $100,000 for its stock, which was used for emergency purposes, but it has been induced to "sit down quickly and write fifty," and even with the $60,000 limit it will be required to make good with a detailed statement for everything which it claims. This is but an example.

Perhaps the most picturesque claims are those of 181 saloon men, who want $104,269.06 for the liquor which was confiscated while the city was burning. The finance committee finds itself in considerable doubt as to what it should do with these demands. If the liquor had been used to relieve anybody, then the chance of its paying the bill would be better, but as it is the men who are adjudicating these claims are inclined to doubt the justice of using the contributions which were given for "relief" for this purpose. It is a nice question.

One grocery firm comes in with a bill of $30,847.57 for what the people received from it. Another grocery house considers that $10,680 would be sufficient to recompense it for the goods which it claims were confiscated. Perhaps no one, not even the claimants, expects that these bills will be paid in full without questions asked, if they do they will be disappointed. The method pursued is to first find the Army officer or policeman who made the confiscation and get his testimony. Then the testimony of disinterested experts is taken on the value of the stock in question at the time of the fire. After this is complete the claims committee believes it is in a better position to make a proposition for settlement.

"But I had such and such an office, and so and so is my friend," is an oft-repeated statement to the members of the committee, which brings down the reply that the committee is not doing politics.

One ambitious grocer consented to reduce his claim from $5500 to $4132.31 after the regular machinery of investigation had been started on his bill.

The automobile bills look large to an amateur. One company wants $25,231.80 for the use of its machines for emergency work; another would be content with $4596.96. Many of the private owners whose machines were used have not put in bills, and others have simply charged for the repairs. From that the rates run to $10 an hour. The committee has settled on a rate of $35 a day for large cars and $25 for runabouts.

Of the 8194 claims 6004 are now in process of adjustment. The plan has been to take up the labor claims first, and it is expected that these will be disposed of in another week. But not all have been paid in full. One man, for instance, wanted full pay for a month's work at one of the relief stations. On investigation it was discovered that he had volunteered his services without pay, and had remained after he had been told that there was nothing more for him to do. The claims of the Board of Public Works for $18,700, a part of the Board of Health for $32,913.20, both for labor, have been paid.

Several firms which put in bills have since forwarded to the committee their receipts. It had been their intention first to secure the check and then contribute it to the relief fund.

It will require the entire month of June to go over the claims which are in the hands of the committee, and it will probably be the second week in July before its work is over.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF MARITIME PROVINCES

SACRAMENTO NOW A CLOSED SHOP TOWN

SACRAMENTO, June 1.—An agreement was reached last night whereby Sacramento becomes a closed shop town so far as building trades are concerned. The agreement is signed by the Builders' Association and the Contractors' Association on one hand and the Building Trades Council on the other, and includes all trades and all contractors engaged in the building industry.

CASTRO'S PROPOSITION REFUSED BY GOMEZ

NEW YORK, June 1.—A cable dispatch from Caracas, Venezuela says: Acting President Gomez, having refused to accept General Castro's proposition involving the continuance of the former in office, the latter declined to meet Senor Gomez at Los Teques Wednesday, thus consummating the rupture between the acting and the former president. Senor Gomez now announces that he will call a special session of congress to consider his resignation. There is feverish excitement here.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

THE WORST DISEASE IN THE WORLD

Contagious Blood Poison is the worst disease in the world; not only those who contract it suffer, but the awful taint is often transmitted to innocent offspring whose lives are blighted and bodies diseased because the virus of Contagious Blood Poison has been allowed to remain in the family blood. The first sign of this disease is usually a little pimple or blister, then a red rash breaks out, the mouth and throat ulcerate, the hair comes out, copper colored spots appear on the limbs, back and breast; and as the disease more thoroughly pollutes the blood, sores and ulcers form and if the trouble is not checked the finger nails drop off, and the soft bones of the nose and head are destroyed. S. S. S. goes down into the blood and forces out every particle of the poison and makes a complete and lasting cure. As soon as the system gets under the influence of the remedy the symptoms begin to pass away, and when the cure is complete the patient is left in perfect health. So thoroughly does S. S. S. rid the system of the virus that no signs of the disease are ever seen in after years, and posterity is born with a rich, pure blood supply. Book with complete instructions for home treatment and any medical advice desired will be given without charge.

I contracted Contagious Blood Poison by using a towel used by some infected person and had every symptom of the vile disorder. I tried everything I heard of but the disease got worse until I heard of S. S. S. which I commenced, and continued the treatment until I was entirely well. This was some time ago and I have never seen the slightest sign of the disease since. JOS. SCHLOEMER. 801 Allen Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

UNDERWRITERS TO GIVE MORE TIME

Lively Meeting Held at Reed Hall--- All Do Not Agree on Plan of Campaign.

At a largely attended meeting of the fire insurance men at Reed's hall this morning, representatives of 72 companies signed an agreement to extend the time for filing proof of loss to August 18th, and eighty-one agreed to allow policyholders to remove debris from their lots without in any way invalidating their claims, making the condition, however, that a close account shall be rendered of everything removed.

The meeting was not altogether a harmonious one. At all the sessions, there were underwriters who, without giving any reason for their inaction, refused to consider any proposition made. They seem to be fighting for time, and have succeeded so far in blocking progress materially. However, the underwriters who want to do the right thing are pleased over the action taken at this morning's meeting, arguing that it will inspire the public with confidence.

The underwriters who would not sign the agreements this morning have already, in many cases, given the extension of time, some allowing until the 1st of September. Some companies, as is the case with the Scottish National and Union, are treating each case individually, advertising to that effect. T. J. A. Tiedman, coast manager for that company, says:

"We have from the first had no trouble with our policyholders, taking up each claim as it comes along and paying as soon as proofs could be presented. Where an extension is needed, we grant it."

The Teutonia is pursuing the same course, extending the time indefinitely.

Several underwriters announced yesterday that they could not sign any agreement until they had received authority from their home offices. Others said they did not propose to be bound by any agreement, but would do the fair thing by the policyholders.

PRICES OF STOCKS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 1.—Prices of stocks were higher than last night at the opening on a moderate volume of dealings. Gains were small with but a few exceptions. Colorado fuel rose 1½, United States steel pfd. and Wabash pfd. showed slight declines.

Professional traders sold freely on the opening rise in prices, centering their efforts against the copper stocks. Most of the favorite stocks became weak but the losses generally were confined to fractions. Amalgamated Copper yielded to 107 and Reading fell a point. Anaconda gave way 3 and Northern Pacific 1. Considerable L. and N. was bought despite the depression elsewhere. The strength of this stock eventually caused slight recoveries all around.

The recovery was slightly extended but movements were listless. Colorado fuel rose 2¼ and Hocking Valley pfd 1. Lackawanna sold at a decline of 7¼ and International Power lost 5.

Bonds were steady at noon.

Trading was in constantly decreasing volume. Scarcely any of the favorite speculative stocks fluctuated more than ¼ between 12 and 1 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO NOT TO HAVE REBATE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—In all probability San Francisco will receive no consideration from the federal government so far as a rebate on building materials is concerned. A telegram from Senator George C. Perkins seems to settle the question.

At recent date the Merchants' Exchange forwarded a telegram to Senator Perkins, requesting that he use his best efforts to secure the passage of a bill providing for the refunding of duties on importations of building materials to be used in the reconstruction of San Francisco. Yesterday Senator Perkins' answer was received. It is as follows:

"Washington, May 31, 1906.

"T. C. Friedlander, Secretary Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, Cal.: Doubt passage of drawback law. Finance committee in cases similar after the Boston and Baltimore fires declined to favorably recommend measure, claiming it unconstitutional, as it made a general law applicable to one designated place.

"GEORGE C. PERKINS."

The constitutional questions involved were not fully considered by the Merchants' Exchange before it sent its request to Senator Perkins, and even yet it is not fully assured that there is not some way in which its wishes and the wishes of all the people of San Francisco may be gratified.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the ferry building to discuss this question of rebate. Whether or not it will take Senator Perkins' answer to the Merchants' Exchange query as finally disposing of the matter will then be determined.

Do so well today that you need have no fear of being done tomorrow.

The best sermon is the one that goes to your head and hits the other fellow.

WHEAT MARKET OPENS WEAK IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 1.—The wheat market opened weak to-day because of general selling on improved weather conditions. Increased receipts at Minneapolis and a quiet market at Liverpool due to liberal shipments from Argentina were the cause of the decline. July opened ⅛@¼ to ¼@⅜ lower at 81¼ to 81⅛ and sold down to 91@⅛. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 226 cars.

The corn market was easier, the weather being the main factor. July opened ⅛@¼ lower and sold down to 48⅝.

The oats market was easy in sympathy with wheat and corn and because of the good weather in the northwest. July opened ⅓ to ¼ lower at 33½@⅝ and sold at 33⅜.

The provisions market was weak because of active selling by pit traders and commission houses, which was based on a five cent decline in the price of live hogs. July pork was 5@7½c lower at $13.25; lard was down 10c at $8.67½, and ribs were $5@7½ lower at $9.32½ to $9.35.

CATTLE RECEIPTS IN CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, June 1.—Cattle—Receipts 2000. Market steady to strong. Beeves $4@6; cows and heifers $1.65@5.10; stockers and feeders, $3.80@4.75; Texans $3.70@4.45; calves $5.50@7.25.

HOGS—Receipts 21,000. Steady to 5c lower; estimated to-morrow 12,000. Mixed and butchers $6.25@6.57½; good heavy $6.42½@6.55; rough heavy $6.25@6.35; light $6.25@6.47½; pigs $5.40@6.10; bulk of sales, $6.40@6.47½.

SHEEP—Receipts 8000. Market steady; sheep $4.60@4.65; lambs $5.35@6.65.

WOOL IS STEADY.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—Wool steady; territory and western medium, 25@30c; fine medium, 21@25½c; fine, 18@20c.

NEW CARS FOR UNITED RAILROADS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Ten new cars for the United Railroads arrived in San Francisco yesterday and eighteen more are this side of Sparks, Nev., on their way here. Twenty-two more are nearing completion in the East. Within a few weeks these fifty cars will be running over the extended trolley system of the United Railroads, and will solve the question of crowding that is now worrying passengers and railroad officials alike.

These new cars are of what is known as the Chicago type and for size, equipment and elegance of finish surpass anything yet seen on this coast. They are built for high speed and in their construction the comfort of passengers was fully considered. Some will be placed on the San Mateo run, but a majority will operate on the Market street and branch lines.

It is the intention of the United Railroads to place the new cars in commission just as fast as their motors can be installed and it is said that the first ten will be ready within two weeks.

The weekly trade circular of Somers & Co., descriptive of the Hay market for the week ending May 30th, is as follows:

Following we give the total arrivals of Hay on the San Francisco market for the week:

Wednesday, 5 cars, 3 boats; Thursday, 16 cars, 2 boats; Friday, 22 cars, 2 boats; Saturday, 12 cars, 2 boats; Monday, 67 cars, 3 boats; Tuesday, 2 cars, 2 boats.

Rather spasmodic deliveries of Hay on the part of the Southern Pacific Company have kept most buyers guessing as to how prices will settle. If shipments came forward as directed, our market would be fully and satisfactorily supplied, but owing to the congested condition of the tracks here, Hay can be brought in only as there is room for it. The result is that a large number of cars, some of which were shipped weeks ago, have not yet been marketed. We are depending very largely on the water for our supplies, although our natural market is in the railroad yards.

Shipments during the past week show a total of 2300 tons in comparison with 2585 tons for last week, and 3250 tons this week last year. It is still very evident that the consumption of Hay has been greatly curtailed here, which condition will probably obtain for many months to come.

One car of new volunteer Hay was marketed on Saturday last. Some proved to be of excellent quality, bright, clean and green. In all probability no more of similar grade will be sent in as the recent heavy rains have undoubtedly ruined the volunteer crop. It is impossible to report the full extent of the damage from the storm as yet, but with the succeeding favorable weather, much of the sown Hay will be saved.

Prices hold without material change and will probably show no weakening until the freight blockade is relieved or the new crop ready for shipment by water.

GENERAL McCOOK IS SERIOUSLY ILL

CHICAGO, June 1.—General Edward A. McCook, a veteran of the civil war, and one of the "fighting McCooks," is seriously ill at his home in this city. General McCook bore a prominent part in the fighting in the west, and after the war was for a time territorial governor of Colorado.

"What I want," sighed the enthusiastic young star, "is one of the delicate, dainty roles which take the soul into Arcady."

"That's all very well, traveling the gentle path of dalliance to Arcady," said the heavy villian, "but let me tell you it's lots more satisfactory in the long run to get fat parts that lead to the pork barrel."—Baltimore American.

NO GARBAGE FOR CREMATORY

CITY ENGINEER MAKES A REPORT ON THE SUBJECT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—After City Engineer Woodward had filed a long report with the health board yesterday adverse to the operation of the Sanitary Reduction Works in the disposal of city garbage, Dr. Hassler, the health commissioner, visited the crematory and as a result the order went forth that no more garbage shall be taken there. This leaves the city practically without a way to dispose of its garbage, as Commissioner Egan, who has had charge of the removal of garbage, says that he cannot return to his system of dumping the refuse at sea without some understanding as to finances.

Engineer Woodward in his report says that the huge chimney that towered 250 feet in the air has been reduced by the earthquake to 150 feet, and even the remainder is cracked and broken. Not only is the use of the chimney impaired, but loose bricks are continually falling and endangering persons working in the vicinity.

In the interior he finds that sixteen out of thirty-two batteries of furnaces are out of commission. The "scrubbing bath," through which the smoke passes for cleansing, is also impaired. The shortened chimney reduces the draft and causes imperfect combustion of the garbage.

The method of chuting garbage on barges at Fort Mason and dumping the refuse at sea, as carried on since the earthquake, was discontinued on May 29, when the reduction works signified its willingness to carry out its contract with the city.

Engineer Woodward closes his report with the comment that his former report condemning the work of the crematory was destroyed, but that it was substantially the same report as the one filed with the board. He advocates the revoking of the contract in view of the fact that much of the garbage is being destroyed by the reductions works in the adjoining vacant lots.

The board of works yesterday notified all its heads of departments to dispense with the service of extra men and to reduce staffs to the regular number.

Architect Shea reported that the Laguna Honda school, on Seventh avenue, between I and J streets, was damaged by the earthquake to the extent of $24,800. This school was not completed. The Crocker school was absolutely unharmed. Other uncompleted schools escaped serious injury.

PLACER MINING IN INDIANA.

The First Genuine Gold Brick of Indiana Gold From Morgan County.

The first genuine brick of Indiana gold ever cast is now in the possession of the Gold Creek mining company. It is made of gold taken from the first two or three clean-ups of the first genuine modern mining operations in Indiana which have been begun on the company's leases on Gold and Sycamore creeks in Morgan county. The brick is a small one when compared with a paving brick—a shade over four lines long, and an inch and a half wide and about a fourth of an inch thick—but it weighs 194 pennyweights one grain, and is worth at the mint of the United States approximately $190.13. The gold is of twenty-two-karat fineness. A second brick will be cast within the next week or ten days. The company expects to have on display in Indianapolis within a month $1000 worth of these bricks.

The gold fever that has been growing in Indiana little by little in recent years since R. L. Royse, as a mild man or a prophet crying from the hills of Morgan county, began four years ago to insist that there is enough gold in those hills to pay off the national debt, will probably be broken or become rampant within the next two or three months. Two placer mining machines of the type such as is used in California are now operating under the direction of graduated California mining experts, and three more plans are being built by three companies in the Morgan county hills back of Centerton. The estimates on the operation of the machine that is now running on Gold creek indicate that the dirt from top to bottom is averaging almost, if not fully, $1 a yard. The other machine was put in operation on Highland creek, near Monrovia, on Wednesday, and though it is too early yet to tell how rich the dirt run through it is washing in gold, those operating it expect an average of $1 of gold for every yard of dirt handled. In California dirt is being washed probably that runs only five cents a yard.

Royse is now laying plans for one or two companies to begin mining on hydraulic principles. He proposes to turn rivers loose on the Morgan county hills and tear them to pieces and wash the gold out of them, the same as is done in the hydraulic mining country in the West.

A TASTE FOR DOGS.

Mark Twain, apropos of Decoration Day, talked of war and of the hardships and privations of sieges.

"A Frenchman," he said, "called one day on a lady who had two dogs. They were ugly little brutes, and, when they came near him, the man pushed them out of the way with his foot.

"'I perceive, sir,' said the lady coldly, 'that you are not very fond of dogs.'

"The man started in surprise.

"'I not fond of dogs?' he exclaimed. 'Why, madam, I ate more than twenty of them during the siege of Paris!'"

REIGN OF TERROR IN COURLAND PROVINCE

MITTAU, Russia, June 1.—A reign of terror exists in Courland province, no less terrible than the situation during the suppression of the revolution by the troops. Revolutionists are visiting summary vengeance on witnesses appearing against them in the military or civil courts. Murders are of daily occurrence.

YARNS.

Here is a sea serpent story from one of the great fresh-water lakes of central Africa. The Globe Trotter of Nairobi, British East Africa, tells it. "According to natives on the shore and islands of Lake Victoria the real simon pure water python is a reality. Officers on board the Sibyl and the Winifred have time and again been unable to account for the unrest shown at times in the most tranquil waters. Sir Clement Hill in crossing the lake some years ago in a launch with one Macgregor, the engineer, saw this monster and described it as having a head resembling the hippopotamus, only three times broader, but much more flat and wedge-shaped. The opinion of the natives regarding its length, etc., differs very much, but all agree that the reptile is amphibious and declare they have seen forty feet or more lying dormant on the bank, while the supposed tail sixty or seventy feet from shore created a commotion in the water resembling the wash of an ocean steamer."

Italy's King recently paid a visit to Vesuvius. On the occasion of a previous visit an Italian newspaper announced that "the eruption had the honor of being witnessed by his majesty." It was a German paper which once stated that a certain royal prince "was graciously pleased to be born yesterday." Equally courtier-like was an army officer in attendance on the King of Spain not long ago. The King asked him what was the time. The courtier fumbled for his watch, but could not find it, then respectfully replied, "Whatever time your majesty pleases."

It is told of the late Maj.-Gen. Sir William Gatacre of the British army that during the Sudan campaign he was one day going the rounds of the sentries. Stopping before one he asked him what his orders were. "To keep a sharp lookout for the enemy and also for Gen. Gatacre," was the prompt reply. "Do you know him by sight," asked the General. "No, sir," answered the man, "but I was told that if I saw an officer fussing and swearing and rushing about that would be General Gatacre."

PRIMITIVE WAYS.

A recent book by J. G. Wright, entitled "In the Good Old Times," throws some interesting light on the ways of days gone by: "Of every three pounds of tea it was said that two were contraband. In fact, smuggling was considered a perfectly legitimate pursuit. Everybody was ready to profit by it, from the squire, who filled his cellars with cheap wine, and his wife, who adorned herself in cheap silks, to the shopkeeper, who got cheap groceries, or the laborer, who got high wages for work that was secret, unlawful and perilous. Even Adam Smith confessed to a weakness for smuggling and nobody was above bargaining to have a pipe or a hogshead put in his cellar at a low figure. But smuggling on a large scale was not carried on without bribery, perjury, informing, violence and murder."

Of the old-time London watchman: "He was wrapped in a wide-skirted heavy coat, a useful garment for protecting him from the cold, but not adapted to enable him to cope with the bullies who assaulted the weak and unprotected. He wore low shoes and a big broad-brimmed hat, which could be turned up or down, worn forward or backward. The only means of defense which the watchman seems to have possessed was a staff something like a beadle's. In his left hand he carried his lantern."

In those primitive times pins were manufactured by hand and went through several stages of manufacture: Worker No. 1 formed the wire, No. 2 cut it into lengths, No. 3 smoothed it, the fourth man made the head, the fifth stuck it on, the sixth ground the point, the seventh washed and dried it, and it had to go through three more hands after that. Hence it used to be a familiar proverb, "It takes ten men to make a pin."

WHEN WOLVES WERE PLENTIFUL.

An Oklahoman Tells of Seeing Thousands of the Beasts at Once.

"Occasionally I see in newspapers that wolves are growing more plentiful in Oklahoma and the Southwest," said "Bill Tilghman, for more than thirty years a scout and deputy marshal in Oklahoma and Kansas. Tilghman once haunted buffalos for their hides and estimated that he killed between 10,000 and 12,000 of these animals. "If wolves are increasing," he continued, "they would have to grow mightily in numbers to be what they were in the early frontier days. I am confident I have seen thousands of big gray wolves in sight at one time. The immediate prairies seemed literally covered with them. These wolves were following in the rear of enormous buffalo herds during migration. The buffaloes were their main subsistence. A pack of gray wolves would attack and kill the biggest bull in the herd. The howling of this army of wolves was an uncanny sound at night. It had a note of personal danger that was not to be heard in the barking of coyotes, the 'yellow dog' of the wolf family.

"We killed many of these big wolves by setting out poison. One night, more than twenty-five years ago, we poisoned a freshly killed buffalo carcass and next morning found twenty big gray wolves dead beside it. Another time, on a flat in the Big Salt plains in Oklahoma, I poisoned antelope meat and was lucky enough to see a pack of these big wolves when they found the meat. The meat contained two ounces of strychnine. In a few minutes the poison began taking effect. The wolves would spring into the air snapping and frothing at the mouth and then die. Nine were dead in less than an hour."

THE POPULAR BILLY M'GEE.

Young Billy McGee was a popeler man,
A popeler feller he was;
But to be too durn poeler ain't a good plan;
It ain't a wise caper—becus

When Billy wuz workin' at home for his dad,
A-plowin' long side o' the road,
Why passers would gang up to talk to the lad—
Hundreds, the fust thing he knowed.

They'd break down the fences and trample the field,
And foller him over the lot;
Destroyin' the crops an' preventin' a yield,
An' makin' Bill's dad mighty hot.

So the popular youth got a job in a store,
And thought that his troubles was done;
But folks came to visit him there all the more
And he sold out the goods by the ton.

The merchant got rich an' retired from the field,
Bill railroaded then for a while.
They set him to brakin' a passenger train,
With a red cap to heighten his smile.

Well, that popular brakeman, he drew such a crowd,
To ride on his dinky old train,
That they climbed on the roof, where they weren't allowed,
And they piled on with might and with main.

They hung on the platform, and crowded the aisles;
They were thick on the roof as could be;
So the train kept a' breakin' down every few miles,
And they fired young Billy McGee.

I never did see such a [illegible]
As young Bill [illegible]
But to be too durned popular [illegible] plan
It's a sort of a [illegible].

FOR TRAINING YOUNG SAILORS

ADJUTANT GENERAL J. B. LAUCK SECURES SEAWORTHY VESSEL.

Through the efforts of Adjutant-General J. B. Lauck, commander of the National Guard of California, the naval militia of the National Guard have, after nearly ten years, secured a first class seaworthy vessel, for use in training the young sailors for service in time of war. Ever since he accepted the office of adjutant-general of California, General Lauck has been striving to replace the old vessel, which has been provided for the use of the naval militia, with a ship which would be of practical use in the training of the militia.

While on a visit to Washington some months ago, General Lauck brought this matter to the attention of the secretary of the navy, and after explaining that he wanted a vessel for the militia, which if necessary, could be used as a cruiser for coast defense in time of war, secured the promise of the secretary that the United States ship "Alert" should be fully refitted, and turned over, fully armed and equipped to the State naval militia.

Since that time the "Alert" has been undergoing a thorough overhauling at the Mare Island navy yard, and she is now in first class condition. More than $20,000 has been spent by the United States. The ship will be moored on San Francisco in refitting and equipping the vessel, and next Sunday the Alert will be brought from the navy yard, and formally turned over to the militia. The ship will be moored on Sunday morning at the Folsom-street pier, in San Francisco, and will there be received by Adjutant-General Lauck, and Captain George W. Bower, commander of the naval militia.

The "Alert" has been thoroughly repaired, inside and out, fitted with electrical appliances of all kinds, and her engines put in first class condition. The vessel is armed with a battery of four six inche guns, six rapid fire guns, and a complete supply of small arms, and will be placed in the hands of the National Guard ready for service at a moment's notice.

General Lauck has, since he assumed command of the National Guard of California, spared no effort to bring the State troops to a high state of efficiency, and to him in a great measure belongs the credit for the splendid service rendered by the citizen soldiers in this city and San Francisco, during the terrible days which followed the destruction of that city by the earthquake and fire.

The ceremony of transferring the "Alert" to the naval militia will be very brief, and will consist merely of the formal delivery of the vessel to the state organization by the United States government.

TRADERS PROPOSE A COMPROMISE

ASK POLICYHOLDERS TO ACCEPT 60 PER CENT OF CLAIMS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Policyholders in the Traders' Insurance Company, now in the hands of a receiver, gathered to the number of at least five hundred yesterday in the Sherith Israel Temple, on the corner of California and Webster streets, in response to the invitation sent out by Insurance Commissioner E. Myron Wolf. It was a great meeting in other respects than its size, being the first meeting of the underwritten since the conflagration, and was marked by a tentative offer of a 60 per cent compromise of the claims from an attorney representing eight or ten of the stockholders.

Considerable opposition was shown to acceptance of the proposition, which was echoed by Commissioner Wolf, but no action was taken other than the appointment of a committee of investigation into the figures submitted by the lawyer of the Traders' stockholders to report on this matter and the rights of the policyholders.

There was a misunderstanding at the outset, when Commissioner Wolf introduced Judge Bates of Chicago as the representative of the receiver of the Traders' Insurance Company. That gentleman repudiated such relationship, saying that he only spoke for a few of the shareholders, who felt humiliated at the position in which their company had been placed, and were willing to put their hands into their pockets and take therefrom $250,000 toward the payment of the liabilities, provided 90 per cent of the policyholders would agree to compromise for 60 per cent of their claims.

The Chicago emissary was listened to attentively, but at the close of his remarks Commissioner Wolf repudiated any sponsorship for the compromise suggestion, and said that its acceptance would lead other insurance companies to come forward with similar propositions. Judge Bates was subjected to a number of inquiries, which he proceeded to answer, but as their numbers increased, for the sake of clearness and the saving of time a committee of inquiry was named, consisting of William Humphreys, J. H. Bennett, Walter Linforth, H. G. W. Dinkelspiel, A. Aronson, D. W. Metson and W. D. Plummer.

Judge Bates said that the Traders' policies in the burned district of San Francisco amounted to $5,187,000, and, after looking over the ground, he was convinced there would be very little salvage, so that the company's liabilities might be placed in round numbers at $5,000,000. It had a paid-up capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $1,300,000, making a total of $1,800,000 in assets with which to meet $5,000,000 losses. In addition, the company had a reinsurance reserve of $1,000,000 but this could not be applied to the payment of losses.

The Traders had $160,000,000 policies outstanding in the United States, and under the receivership proceedings each policy had a right to return of its premium. The attorney said that under receivership proceedings it would take from three to five years to settle, and then it would be on the basis of from 35 to 40 per cent of the face of the policies. Right or ten stockholders would, however, if they could, have the matter taken out of the hands of the receiver, and as their representative he suggested a settlement for 55 or 60 per cent. If a sufficient number of the policy holders, say 90 per cent, would co-operate, these eight or ten shareholders would go down into their pockets and pay $250,000 to make a settlement.

Other companies were going to fail before San Franciscans got out of their difficulty. These Traders' shareholders would, nevertheless, put up $242,293 if settlement could be made for 60 per cent. Judge Bates argued that these terms should be accepted saying that under the Illinois law the Traders' shareholders were not liable pro rata for losses, once the capital stock had been paid up, and that the California pro rata law could not be enforced against them unless they could be found and served in this State, he adding that henceforth they would prefer to travel in Europe rather than in California.

Commissioner Wolf disclaimed any knowledge that a compromise scheme was to be submitted to the Traders' policy holders when he called the meeting or when he introduced Judge Bates. He wanted to be placed on record as not "sponsoring" compromise with the Traders or any other company. He suggested that a chairman and a secretary should be chosen for the meeting, and that he be thereby relieved from any course which it might pursue.

Marshall Hale was chosen president and John S. Partridge secretary, and a motion was made that a committee of seven should be appointed to investigate the figures and the proposition submitted by Judge Bates and the legal rights of the policy holders, and report thereon at a general meeting, to be held in the same place at 1 p. m. on Monday next. While the vote was pending a number of questions were propounded to Judge Bates by those present, indicating dissatisfaction with his proposition, but finally the whole matter was referred to the committee for investigation.

PROPOSED CHANGE TO LIQUOR LAW

The ordinance and judiciary committee of the city council last night recommended the adoption of an amendment to the liquor license ordinance presented by Councilman Burns requiring all wholesale liquor dealers in the city of Oakland to pay a license of $25 per quarter, and to sell liquor to no person not holding a license for the retailing of liquor. Max Marcuse, an attorney representing certain wholesale liquor interests, asked that the wording of the proposed amendment be changed to read that wholesalers be permitted to sell only to the trade, but the committee finally determined to allow them to sell only to persons holding retail liquor licenses.

As first presented, the amendment provided that wholesalers should be allowed to sell liquor only in case lots, or in quantities of not less than a five gallon barrel to any one purchaser, but after some discussion it was agreed that the best interests of all parties would be served by the insertion of the clause providing for the sale of liquor only to retailers.

W. E. CHANDLER, PUBLICIST.

Ex-Senator William E. Chandler of New Hampshire, who is now at the head of the Spanish treaty claims commission, misses the opportunity he had in the Senate of discussing public questions and writes frequently to the newspapers on important topics.

"What are you doing now, Chandler?" an old friend asked him the other day.

"Oh," replied Chandler, "I am a publicist."

"A publicist! What is a publicist?"

Chandler grinned. "A publicist," he said, "is a man who attends to everybody's business but his own."—Boston Herald.

LOSES MONEY; TRIES SUICIDE

TAKEN FROM WATER TO THE HOSPITAL, THEN TO PRISON.

Alexander Bernard, a peddler of earthquake and fire pictures, lost $25 in a poker game last evening, and felt so bad over it that he just went down to the foot of Broadway and sought to end his disgrace and incidentally his life by jumping overboard. However, his roommate, Arthur Amos, took a hand in the affair, and when Bernard hit the water he raised an alarm which brought two boatmen to the rescue. After taking him from the water Amos had him removed to the receiving hospital, where Dr. Irwin soon resuscitated him. He was then taken to the city prison for the night.

Bernard has been employed by the Progressive Novelty Company of 567½ Broadway, and last evening indulged in a little game of poker in the rear of a saloon on Seventh and Broadway. He claims that he was the victim of some "sharp tricks," and after parting with $25, all the coin he had, he was seized with an attack of remorse that was responsible for his subsequent action. Amos, it appears, followed him down to the Broadway dock, evidently divining some such action, and lost no time in giving the alarm when Bernard jumped. Bernard has been residing at a rooming house on the corner of Ninth and Franklin and before entering the employ of the Novelty Company was a member of Company A. He is 25 years of age and unmarried.

STATE OF MAINE ASSOCIATION REUNION

The annual reunion of the State of Maine Association will take place Saturday, June 2. No special program has been arranged. Everything will be informal. Baked beans, brown bread, and coffee up to their usual standard of excellence will be served free. Admission, fifty cents. The concert program is as follows:

PRESIDENT ANDREW JOHNSON'S GRAVE.

The efforts being made to interest the federal government in the grave of Andrew Johnson the seventeenth President of the United States now said to be in a state of neglect at Greenville, Tenn., should meet with encouragement in all sections of the country. Johnson's career, in many particulars, presents one of the most pathetic chapters in our national history. Heavy responsibilities fell upon him in the most stressful season of the nation's whole existence, and while it is needless here to consider his fitness generally for the duties put upon him at Lincoln's death, it will probably not be denied that he was at least wholly unprepared to grapple with the problems of the hour. The nation was distracted, and Johnson, because, perhaps, of the taste, temperament and training of the man, fell an easy victim to the excitement which beat upon him from every section of the country.

In the period of quiet and national amity existing more than a quarter of a century after his passing, we may forgive whatever of rashness he displayed in the unquiet season forty years ago. While he was for a while bitterly disliked in the South, he yet displayed, in many of his public utterances, particularly on the occasion of his "swing around the circle," and in many of his public and official acts, a real and earnest friendship for this section of the country. But whatever may be said or thought now of his utterances, or his policies, there can be no reason for the government's failure to rescue his grave from the destroying influences of time.

The last resting place of this man, whose life at best was cast along lines the most unhappy, should be cared for and preserved by his countrymen for its historic value, if for no other reason, and we may hope that the movement to interest the United States government in the Greenville lot will prove successful.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

PHELAN TO REBUILD ON MARKET STREET

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—"Certainly, I will rebuild on the site of the old Phelan building and do so at an early date, for Market street will rehabilitate itself quickly and enjoy more than ever before its old-time prestige as the city's main artery," said James D. Phelan yesterday. "The location is a central one, and I want to build a modern structure that will be a credit to San Francisco and at the same time be a good income-producing investment."

Prior to April 18th the Phelan building was a great income producer for the former mayor, with its great retail stores on the ground floor and its many spacious offices upstairs. It was erected by the father of Mr. Phelan in the days before steel frames, and ranked at one time as the largest and finest business structure on Market street.

Mr. Phelan says that until he has had further consultation with his architects he cannot in detail state the height of his proposed new building. It is known that he has had several talks with Theodore Stearrett of New York, a member of the big building and construction firm, known as the Thompson & Stearrett Construction Company, who is at present in the city. Stearrett and his associates have built some of the largest structures in New York within twelve months after turning the first spadeful of earth for the foundation. He says the same thing can be done with Mr. Phelan's building, no matter how many stories he may decide upon for the structure.
